

3 Days Orangutan Journey 2025

The Beauty of Borneo Rainforest

Day 1 (L, D)

KUMAI - TANJUNG PUTING NATIONAL PARK

Upon your arrival in Pangkalan Bun, Central Kalimantan, you will be picked up by our tour guide part of the orangutan journey team and taken to Kumai (a harbor town) to board on your private boat so - called Klotok. This traditional wooden river boat is a boat about 15 m by 3 m with an upper deck for you to view the rainforest and the beautiful national park as it glides by. You will meet your journey team includes a boat captain (boat man), a captain assistant, and a chef.

About 2 hours from Kumai cruise up Sekonyer river to Tanjung Puting National Park, arrive at the first Camp (Tanjung Harapan) and trek the rainforest for about 1 km to watch the orangutans feeding at 3 PM. Take your time and enjoy the feeding activity, take pictures, your guide will explain you the story of the camp and its resident orangutans after the feeding time.

Orangutan Journey on board experience

Board to the boat, river safari and witness the wildlife around the river banks.

Your first day ends by dinner on board, and overnight on board or in Rimba Lodge.

Day 2 (B, L, D)

CAMP PONDOK TANGGUI - CAMP LEAKEY

After breakfast onboard, cruise up Sekonyer river for about an hour to go to Camp 2 (Pondok Tanggui). The fresh morning air, the forest panorama and the colorful birds will always be part of your daily start.

On arrival at Camp Pondok Tanggui, a light trekking takes you to the feeding platform where you can enjoy the orangutans daily supplemental feeding starting by 9 in the morning. After the feeding activity, your tour guide will lead you on an exploration trek around Camp Pondok Tanggui forest area.

“Board to the boat and continue for 1,5 hours upriver stream to the legendary Camp Leahey, the biggest research center for the orangutans established in 1971.”

Your delicious lunch will be served on the boat along the way to get to Camp Leahey.

On arrival at Camp Leahey's dock, you may (sometimes) be welcomed by some of the semi-wild Orangutans resident at Camp Leahey. Quite a large resident population of orangutans live around Camp Leahey as permanent residents.

Your guide will explain the history of the individuals you meet and you will find it interesting to observe the social interaction of the orangutan families and individuals. Make sure that your camera is always ready to shoot every moment.

Orangutans in Camp Leahey, Tanjung Puting NP – Central Borneo

Trekking about 1,5 kms to the feeding platform to watch the orangutans feeding starts by 2 PM in Camp Leakey, along the way your tour guide will introduce you firsthand to the Borneo tropical rainforest, one of the oldest tropical rainforests of the world. You have your chance to witness the orangutans in their real habitat, and the diverse of flora and fauna over this area.

After the feeding activity, return to the boat by forest walk and stream down the river.

River safari to watch species of primates, wild animals, birds, and certainly see groups of the endemic Proboscis monkey.

This will amazingly end your second day of the journey. Your evening is free time, dinner on board, rest, relax overnight on board or in Rimba Lodge.
