

RV Research & Comparison Worksheet

Enlightened RV Life™

Use this Worksheet to stay organized during your RV research process. It includes steps for online investigation, in-person visits, and side-by-side model comparisons.

Online Research

Join RV forums (e.g., iRV2, RV.net) and search for model-specific discussions.

Participate in Facebook groups relevant to your RV interest (brand/type/travel style).

Watch YouTube walkthroughs and reviews for your top RV choices.

Visit manufacturer websites for brochures, specs, and virtual tours.

Browse classified sites (e.g., RVTrader, RVUSA) for real-world pricing.

Read multiple user reviews for consistent pros/cons on specific models.

RV Shows & Dealership Visits

Attend an RV show and view multiple models side-by-side.

Prepare a list of RVs to prioritize viewing before attending the show.

Visit dealerships with a diverse inventory.

Ask about service department reputation and warranty work.

Request full price breakdown (including dealer fees).

Inquire about trade-in options and financing terms.

Schedule a test drive (especially for motorhomes)

Must-Have / Nice-to-Have / Deal-Breakers

List your must-have features (e.g., full bathroom, tank size, solar-prep).

---

---

List nice-to-have features (e.g., outdoor kitchen, power awning).

---

---

Identify deal-breakers (e.g., carpet, poor build quality).

---

---

---

Involve your partner or family in prioritizing these lists.
