GLOBAL MENO EDUCA-THON 2026

Partnership & Sponsorship Prospectus

10–17 October 2026 | Virtual Conference

In Celebration of World Menopause Day

About

The Global Meno Educa-thon is a premier seven-day virtual menopause health conference bringing together menopause health professionals and midlife women from around the world to advance evidence-based menopause education.

Hosted by TEKHI Global, the conference serves as a global platform to increase awareness, reduce stigma, improve clinical knowledge, and empower women with trusted information to make informed health decisions throughout midlife.

The Challenge

Women spend nearly one-third of their lives in perimenopause and menopause, yet menopause remains one of the most under-recognized and under-resourced areas of healthcare worldwide.

Millions of women experience symptoms that affect their health, careers, relationships, and quality of life without timely diagnosis, evidence-based information, or adequate support. At the same time, healthcare professionals often receive limited menopause training, leaving significant gaps in care.

The result is unnecessary suffering, reduced workplace productivity, increased healthcare costs, and millions of women navigating this life stage alone.

The Global Meno Educa-thon was created to close this gap through accessible, expert-led, evidence-based education with global reach.

Our Vision

A world where every woman has access to trusted menopause education, quality healthcare, and the knowledge to thrive throughout midlife.
