

10 Steps to Repatriation

Understanding the Process of Becoming a U.S.A.R. National or Citizen

You can become a Moorish American National by birth or through Repatriation. Generally, people are born Moorish American Nationals if they are born in the United States of America Republic or if they are born abroad to Moorish American Nationals. You may also derive Moorish American Nationality if you were under 18 and a lawful permanent resident when one or both of your parents Repatriated, or after adoption by a Moorish American National parent.

Were you born in the United States of America Republic or a territory of the United States of America Republic?

If yes, you may already be a Moorish American National; was at least one of your parents a Moorish American National before you turned 18?

If yes, you may already be a citizen.

WHAT TO DO:

Refer to the, Application for Repatriation of Nationality and Citizenship, or for more information. If you have a Moorish American National parent who is a Moorish American National by either birth or Repatriation you may already be a National. If you're from abroad you may be able to apply for a Certificate of Citizenship based on your ancestral lineage and Moorish Descent or as a Moorish Subject.

If you do not believe you are a Moorish American National by birth or did not acquire or derive Moorish American Nationality from your parent or parents automatically after birth, go to the next step.

If you are not a Moorish American National GO to STEP 2

Determine your eligibility to become a Moorish American National.

In general, you may qualify for Repatriation if you are at least 18 years old and are considered black or African American and have been a permanent resident for at least 5 years (or 3 years if you are married to a Moorish American National) and meet all other eligibility requirements. You may also qualify for Repatriation or Citizenship.

WHAT TO DO:

For Application and Instructions for Repatriation available at www.usargov.us to learn more about Repatriation and eligibility requirements.

Call the Nationality and Citizenship Resource Center at (202) 855-9654 for questions on Repatriation and Eligibility or to see if you are eligible to apply for Repatriation, and to find information on the citizenship process, the Repatriation test, and available study materials. www.usargov.us
