

Notemaking Passage (for Practice) [Answer key is given below]

Read the following passage carefully:

Online education has transformed the way students learn. With the help of the internet and digital devices, students can access lessons from anywhere in the world. It offers flexibility, allowing learners to study at their own pace and time. Online platforms provide video lectures, study materials, and interactive quizzes. This method is especially helpful for working professionals and students living in remote areas. However, a stable internet connection and basic technical knowledge are necessary for effective learning.

Online education also encourages self-discipline and independent learning. Students develop research skills and become more responsible for managing their time. It reduces travel costs and saves time. However, lack of face-to-face interaction may sometimes affect communication skills. To make online education effective, teachers must design engaging lessons and provide regular feedback. Proper guidance and balanced screen time can help students gain maximum benefit from digital learning.
