Kankakee County Auditor Launches New Transparency Website

Kankakee, Illinois- The Kankakee County Auditor Colton Ekhoff announced today the launch of a new website for the Auditor's Office.

"When I took office, I promised to be transparent and make it easier for the people of Kankakee County to access financial information," said Auditor Ekhoff. "I committed to building a website within 90 days, and I'm extremely proud to share we got it done in just 30 days."

The new website allows County residents to view financial, compensation reports, and an online checkbook that updates after the County Board approves monthly claims. The new website is designed to give taxpayers a way to see where their hard-earned dollars are going. "This website will bring accountability, transparency," Ekhoff added. "Every resident has the right to see how their tax dollars are being spent, and this is one more step towards ensuring that level of transparency."

The Kankakee County Auditor's Office will continue work on efficiency, responsible spending, and streamline the office.

Residents can visit the new website at (kankakeecountyauditor.com).
