DISTRACTIONS SEMINAR
Presented by Natalie McManus, CNWI

Sniffin Around STL Scent Work Club is pleased to host AKC Scent Work Judge, Natalie McManus, CNWI, for a seminar on Distractions.

This seminar will focus on all types of distractions; toys, food, human and auditory along some out of the ordinary items. Helping to build stronger obedience to odor under challenging scenarios. It is open to all dogs on odor, of all skill levels, novice - master.

There will only be 10 working slots available for dogs and handlers, with an unlimited number of auditing spots for handlers only (no dogs) to observe and ask questions.

Event to be held at:
Lutheran Church of the Atonement
1285 N New Florissant Rd
Florissant, MO 63031

When:
Saturday, January 17, 2026
9:00am - 12:15pm

Seminar Fees:
$75.00 for a working spot (one dog & handler) for club members
$95.00 for a working spot (one dog & handler) for non-club members
$35.00 for an auditing spot for club members
$55.00 for an auditing spot for non-club members

Working slots for this event will be offered via random draw. To enter the random draw, complete the form at <https://sniffinaroundstlswc.com/events>, listing your name, email address and dog's name. The random draw will be held on December 17, 2025. If you are selected for a working slot, you will be sent an email with directions on how to complete the official entry form and submit the fee. You will have 48 hours from the date/time the email is sent to respond.

Crating will be available inside the building in a separate room - dogs must be able to be calm & quiet in their crate while awaiting their turn
