

A modern interior space featuring a large wall of white marble with dark veins. A large, dark-framed television is mounted on the wall. Below the TV is a long, low, dark grey console with a wooden slat front. On the console are several decorative items, including a small elephant figurine and a glass jar. The floor is made of large, light-colored marble tiles. In the background, there is a large window with a view of a city building. A yellow armchair and a round coffee table are visible in the distance.
