

Swiftcert Free eBook Use Policy

Effective Date: 01/08/2025

Last Updated: 01/08/2025

1. Purpose of This Policy

Swiftcert Training ("we", "our", "us") occasionally provides free downloadable eBooks as part of our educational mission. This policy outlines the terms of use for these materials and our rights regarding their distribution, reproduction, and intellectual property.

2. What We Provide for Free

We may offer free eBooks to:

- Educate visitors on relevant training topics
- Promote awareness of our paid services
- Support professional development

These materials are offered at no financial cost but may require users to provide limited personal information (e.g., name, email).

3. Copyright and Intellectual Property

All eBooks, even those offered for free, remain the exclusive intellectual property of Swiftcert Training.

By downloading or accessing any free content, you agree not to:

- Reproduce, modify, or distribute the eBook(s) without written permission
- Sell, license, or commercialize the content
- Claim authorship or remove Swiftcert branding
- Upload content to third-party platforms without authorization

Copyright protection applies under UK and international law. Violations may result in legal action.

4. Permitted Use

Swiftcert Free eBook Use Policy

You are allowed to:

- Download and retain one copy for personal, non-commercial use
- Share the official download link (not the file itself) with others
- Reference or quote content with proper attribution to Swiftcert Training

5. User Data and Privacy

To access free content, we may collect basic information (e.g., name, email). This data will be handled in accordance with our Privacy Policy and will not be sold or shared with third parties.

You may unsubscribe from related communications at any time.

6. Disclaimer

Swiftcert makes no guarantees about the accuracy or completeness of the information in the free eBooks. These resources are provided "as-is" and do not constitute formal training or certification.

7. Policy Violations

If we detect misuse or abuse of our free products, we reserve the right to:

- Block future downloads or access
- Revoke access to previously shared materials
- Pursue legal action for copyright infringement
