Mount Kuta is a famous mountain-sized rock in Bukit National Park in Malaysia.

(33)

It is well known for being one of the most challenging places to ascend. At 12 June 2011, ten-year-old Sarah decided to climb this mountain. She was the youngest person to sucesfully reach the top. During the extremely dangerous hike, Sarah felt exhausted and was sunburnt due to the intense heat. However, she persevered. Her father was very impressed. He told the reporters proudly  Sarah was positive throughout the entire adventure."

(35)

Indeed, Sarah was in high spirits when she reached the summit. Smiling jubeelantly, Sarah gave this piece of advice to anyone who was thinking about doing anything similar. "You don't need any special skills or talents. You just have to put your mind to it and be determined  she said. Sarah eventually went on to conquer higher and even more challenging mountains. Source: adapted from <http://newsforkids.net>

(37)

Section H (8m)

Comprehension Open-ended

Read the passage below and answer questions 39 to 44. Your answers must be based on the passage.

"Look at that!" Bill gave a shout of surprise. He and his brother, Sam, were catching insects near their campsite when they sighted it on top of a hill.

"Let's check it out!" Sam said, his eyes lit up with excitement. "Race you to the hill," he challenged. Laughing, they ran until they came to the cave entrance. Fearlessly, Sam stepped inside but he was not able to see anything in the cave. It was pitch black. Curious to find out what was inside, the duo hurried back to their campsite to get a torch. 5

Moments later, their real adventure began. With great caution, they entered the unknown. There was a strong odour of rotting wood. Bill wrinkled his nose at the unpleasant smell while Sam sneezed noisily several times. 10

Deeper and deeper they ventured. Soon, they stumbled upon some uneven steps which they began to climb gingerly. Then, Bill, who had been talking incessantly all this while, suddenly went quiet. He stared, mouth agape, at something on the ground ahead of them. It was a half-burnt candle.

"Look, we're not the first ones here!" he said. Hearts beating like bongo drums, the boys continued walking. Was anyone still in the cave? Their question was soon answered by the sound of someone humming. "AH!" They screamed and fled out of the cave as fast as their legs could carry them. 15

Class: Primary 3 _____ Date: _____

Read the passage below and answer questions 1 to 5

Mrs Sathi's voice interrupted her. "Elizabeth! Perhaps you would care to 1 join the rest of the class?"

Elizabeth nodded and tried to pay attention while Mrs Sathi described the Father's Day cards that they were told to make.

Mrs Sathi distributed the construction paper and pieces of fabric that had 5 been cut into the shape of neckties. The pupils were to paste the necktie to the front after folding the paper into half to make a card. Mrs Sathi wrote the message that was meant to go inside the card on the whiteboard. Dutifully, Elizabeth folded her yellow piece of paper in half but stopped and frowned at the blue necktie-shaped fabric she had been given. Taking her scissors out of her pencil case, she began to cut the fabric. She spent a few minutes trying to get 10 the right shape.

Finally, Elizabeth was done. She drew a picture of a lady and pasted the blue bow she had just cut onto the lady's mop of curly hair. She then went on to write the sweetest message ever. 15

However, when she looked around, she realised that her friends' cards were very different from hers. At that moment, Mrs Sathi picked up her card.
Elizabeth sat very still waiting for her to say something. Instead, she saw a tear roll down Mrs Sathi's face.

Mrs Sathi then looked at Elizabeth and said, "I am touched that you know 20
Mummy works very hard and that you have chosen to wish her a 'Happy Father's Day'. It's so sweet of you."

Adapted from Chicken Soup for the Soul

Answer the questions in complete sentences. Your answers must be based on the passage.

1. Who was Mrs Sathi ?

2. What does 'they' in line 4 refer to?

3. What materials were provided by Mrs Sathi to make the cards?

4. How was Elizabeth's card different from her classmates' cards?

5. Which four-word phrase shows that Mrs Sathi was touched by Elizabeth's card?
