

Ariel Elinson M.S.Ed

An inclusion specialist in the Boston Public Schools, Ariel has over 12 years of experience as a special education teacher, academic tutor, and executive function coach. Trained in applied behavior analysis, Ariel relies on an individualized, behavioral, and data-driven approach to help students develop and improve their time management, organization, and planning skills. A creative problem-solver, he uses an array of techniques—some grounded in relationship-building, others drawn from his many years in the classroom—to build rapport with students and help them succeed academically. He holds an M.S.Ed. in Special Education from Simmons College and a B.A. in Psychology from the University of Massachusetts, Amherst.
