

Chronological List of Books I (Emil Barna) Read ~2016-2025

The following books have shaped my personal and professional life.

First I've broken the list down into years. Second, I've separated the books into their respective categories.

If you want an insight into my thinking over the years, look no further than the books I have read...

Comprehensive List of Books in their Categories

What follows is a comprehensive (but not completely exhaustive) list of books I've read over the years in their respective categories. Many of these appear on the list above (2016-2025) while others I read pre-2016 and I've included because of the impression they made on me. I've made the titles that were most influential in helping shape my thinking and practice bold to differentiate them from the rest. Those that are both bold and have asterisks () beside them were highly influential in both my personal and professional life. Many of these I've read multiple times and some I've made Notes for. As time progresses, I aim to continue putting together Notes for not just the most pressing books I've read, but for all the books I read from 2026 onwards (barring some obvious titles that I read merely for liesure).
