MONTANA CONTEMPORARY ARTS COLLECTIVE

ABOUT MCAC

The collective exists to give a voice to emerging, contemporary artists in the Bozeman area with a focus on the art and artist. Our community offers the chance to network with fellow Artists and Community Members, continued motivation to make new work and collaboration with fellow members. We will encourage each other, learn from each other, share ideas, critique our artwork, hold our own shows in unique locations.

MCAC

WHAT WE OFFER

- Reviews of artwork by the members and by established professional artists with an extensive knowledge of art
- Guest Lectures for members, covering portfolio creation, writing an artist's statement, how to give an artist's talk, how to give critique, how to write a resume, grant writing and more
- Access to artist talks by established contemporary artists, online or in person
- Opportunity to give artist talks to the collective
- Group and individual art shows in unique locations
- Promotion of members art through social media and webpage
- Opportunities for artist interviews in local magazines and newspapers
- All money from art sales at our shows will go to the artist

WHAT WE EXPECT FROM MEMBERS

- Have your art critiqued for acceptance to MCAC
- Respect each other as artists
- Attend meetings/lectures monthly
- To give 2 hours a month working for MCAC
- Pay a fee to be included in art shows and that fee will go for catering and advertising

We are about the art and artist and we also know we need to generate an income for MCAC to survive.

WE WILL

- work to have all lecturers donate their time and the public will pay a fee for the lecture
- Create t-shirts, hats, etc. that will be for sale at our events and online
- Write grants
- Solicit donations from the community
