

Translation Strategy Aligned with KODE®: Building Digital Learner Competence

Wondering why not everything is translated into your language?

*Great question—and no, we didn't forget! We actually made a conscious decision not to translate every single bit. Why? Because this platform is not just about giving you knowledge and helping you grow your skills, especially digital ones.

*Our approach is based on the KODE® competence framework*, which supports you in developing key competences like self-efficacy, independent learning, and digital confidence.

Instead of providing everything pre-translated, we guide you step-by-step on how to use simple browser tools like Google Translate. This way, you don't just rely on us, you learn how to access any content you need in the future, no matter the language. It's like a fashion toolkit: we give you the patterns, but you learn how to sew it yourself. That's what empowerment looks like.
