THE TIMELESS XERISCAPE

At Rio Brazos Plants, we have a drive to educate, encourage, and inspire our customers to go native. Our plants are hand-picked and researched before they enter our nursery, so you can garden with confidence. We are diligent in promoting water conservation, cold hardy cultivars, and the beauty of southern landscaping.

ROOTED IN PASSION

What started as an admiration for the resilience of southern plants in the harsh conditions of Big Bend National Park, Rio Brazos Plants is bringing the beauty of the Chihuahuan Desert to North Texas!

Our dedication to quality plants and exceptional customer service is what sets us apart. We believe that a garden is more than just a collection of plants; it's a living, breathing work of art that reflects the unique character of its environment and the people who nurture it. We want your desert specimens to be a conversation piece.

As stewards of the great land of Texas, we have a responsibility to create balance and harmony in our landscapes. Not just experts, we are lovers of gardening and stay informed about proper planting techniques, quality plant care, and the native species that give back to important wildlife.

Thank you for being part of our mission.

WATER-CONSERVATIVE

Our plants boast tremendous drought tolerance throughout the hot summers of Texas, so you can enjoy your landscape without raising your water bill.

NATIVE AND SUSTAINABLE

If the boot fits! You'll find plants that, when properly installed, love our hot summers and shrug at a hard freeze. Our desert specimens and Texas perennials pass the test for keeping your landscape lively all year without the need for replanting.

POLLINATOR FRIENDLY

Looking to attract hummingbirds or butterflies? We offer plants that pollinators love, but their beautiful blooms are special for us too! We keep flowering plants for every season.

LOW MAINTENANCE

Many of our desert specimens are cold hardy into the negative degrees and do not need yearly trimming, making them a worry-free choice for a busy lifestyle.
