

Dami Edun

Author | Cultural Storyteller | Public Speaker

Book a talk: www.damiedun.com/speaking

Dami Edun is a British-born Nigerian author, speaker and creator of Ogaman — a groundbreaking superhero novel inspired by Yorùbá spirituality that reimagines power, morality and identity in a dystopian London.

His work blends ancestral wisdom with modern storytelling to encourage people—especially young ones of African heritage—to reclaim their voice and cultural pride.

Dami has delivered talks and workshops across the UK, Nigeria and the United States — appearing on stages, panels and podcasts.

TALKS & WORKSHOPS

- 🎯 Forging Your Own Path: The Superhero Within
- 🎯 From Pages to Power: How I Wrote My Own Legend
- 🎯 Crafting Your Origin Story
- 🎯 From the Streets to the Page: Turning Urban Life into Literature

TARGET GROUPS: Students aged 13–25, educators and aspiring writers

PAST APPEARANCES: Chadwell Heath Academy, LEAP Africa, Jackson Reed High School, Coventry Uni London, LSBU

WHAT TO EXPECT

- ✅ Immersive talks infused with personal storytelling, African wisdom and creative challenges
- ✅ Real-world writing and storytelling skills
- ✅ A powerful boost in self-worth and creative confidence

TESTIMONIAL

“A great presentation — the students have been very positive. We’d love to have Dami in again.”

— Frances Rayit, Literacy Lead @ Chadwell Heath Academy

For Talks and Workshops:

✉ dami@damiedun.com

🔗 Dami Edun's Speaking Page