UMAISHIMA CITY

LORE AND GUIDEBOOK

INTRODUCTION

What is the city of Umaishima? For some, it is heaven; for others, it can be purgatory. People live, work, and play like we do, with one main difference. Some have a desire to consume and swallow others to absorb their power, gaining extra fat and assets to improve their physique. For some, there is a desire to eat, and for others, there is a desire to be eaten. The governing body of this city has carefully crafted rules and laws to ensure a healthy population to keep the city functional while allowing the huntresses to satisfy their insatiable appetite and eat their fill.

We call the people who live here 'beings' as not all are human. The city comprises of an eclectic collection of; humans, non-humans, monsters, magical beings, otherworldly beings, synthetic beings and more. There is a place and space for everyone here in Umaishima City. The women rule the city, and the men only live to serve and feed them. Everyone's fate is to be eventually eaten and digested by another. However, if the Goddess is kind, she may decide to reincarnate you sooner rather than later. Let us take a look into the unique and fascinating world where vore permeates multiple aspects of society that otherwise appear, by all other accounts, normal.

Common terms to know

Vore: Erotic desire or sexual fantasy to be consumed or to consume another

Pred: Refers to the one who is consuming.

Prey: Refers to the one who is being consumed.

THE POPULATION

CITIZENS OF UMAISHIMA

FEMALE BEINGS

Women are at the top of the food chain and rule the city. They prefer wearing clothing that accentuates their figures and bodies and are open to full nudity in public. Even if they can go fully nude in public, most don't, as it is distracting and can stimulate nearby preds to uncontrollably pounce and eat them (unless that is what they want). There are more women than men in the city by 3:1 ratio.

FEMALE HUMANS

Female humans are the most common beings in the city. They tend to become prey for the other classes of beings, but it is not uncommon for some to be preds. They usually don't possess unique magical qualities unless they consume other beings with magic. As appealing as that sounds, most humans wouldn't want to risk that endeavor lest they become the meal of said magical being. Humans are the most intelligent and creative of beings; they are responsible for inventing new technologies and keeping things running smoothly in the city.

FEMALE DEMI-HUMANS

Female demi-humans are a mixed of human and monster woman. They are traditionally preys as they usually have the same craving tendencies as the monster women, with some possessing magical abilities. Demi-humans are common prey for the monster women as they aren't as valuable as humans to be kept around, and consuming a demi-human boosts a monster woman's magical abilities, strength, and bust size. They look mostly human except for a few non-human traits. Most beings with animal traits, like canine and feline women, are considered demi-human. Not all mixed beings are necessarily demi-humans. The offspring of a monster and a human woman can be either a pure human or a pure monster woman.

MONSTER WOMEN

MONSTER WOMEN

Monster women are held in the highest regard in the city. Beings with abnormal skin, with parts of their bodies covered in fur/scales and claws/hooves instead of human hands/feet, are considered monster women, not demi-human. They are usually larger than the other beings and have more monster features than the demi-humans. It is uncommon for a monster woman to be prey as they typically have a ferocious appetite and a strong consumption aura. They also have the strength to overcome anyone who dares try to eat them. Common monster women are lamias, demons, centaurs, dridders, and many others, including hybrids between each other.

There are some monster women who look human are mistaken for demi-humans, like succubi, elves and vampires. However, these beings are classified as monster women because they have strong magic capabilities.

The monster women in the city typically have the most wealth and influence in the city.

MALE BEINGS

Men are under the complete subjugation of women and are seen mainly as a food and labor source. They are also infertile and do not contribute to the population of society. To escape this subjugation, they can prove their value by scoring in the top 10% in a specialized field at Umai University. If they have high intelligence, they are granted consumption immunity, can get a good job, and can keep their free will. However, most men try to form a contract bond with a woman before they graduate from Umai University. As a mercy, they get protection for four years after being born while attending university to prove their worth and see where they fit in society.

Once they form a contract with a woman, they become her servant and must do whatever she says by law. There is a gamble that they may eventually be eaten by the woman whom they have a contract with, or they might get lucky and be under her protection so long as he faithfully serves her or she is eaten. Men who do not have a contract with a woman nor have consumption immunity are open season to be hunted and eaten.

DIFFERENT PATHS

Some men chose to opt out of the contract in exchange for short-lived freedom until inevitably eaten. Luckily, most women prefer to eat other women, so there is a good chance they can avoid being eaten for a long time. On the opposite end, some men are naturally inclined to be consumed. They will seek out a woman they are fascinated with to be her next meal, gladly being turned into extra fat to add to her assets.

Men are forbidden from eating women, both tiny and large. If one is found having eaten a woman, they are considered criminal, placed as a high priority on the consumption list, and are actively hunted. Some men may risk eating a woman as it has been known that there is a low chance of absorbing her essence and transforming into a full woman or a futanari. This is a high-risk endeavor, and most don't make it that far. In the rare cases where they can transform without being caught, they can gain their independence. They must keep their transformation secret as they can still be put on the consumption list for their crime of eating a woman when they were still man.

MALE HUMANS

Most men who have consumption immunity are humans. Humans, including men, are naturally more intellectual than monsters or demis and usually score the highest at the University. Most male humans have a natural inclination to be subservient and willingly eaten. They are the best ones to form a contract with as they will spoil and cater to their Mistress' every need, including her appetite.

MALE DEMI-HUMANS

Male demi-humans are often used for labor as they are stronger than humans but not as bright. Female beings love having a contract with a demi-male because of their attractiveness, but demi-males are not as competent at domestic tasks as human males. They are often used as playthings for their Mistress, being naturally good at giving her any pleasures she desires.

MONSTER MEN

Monster men, unlike monster women, are the lowest beings in society. Most end up doing hard physical labor as they have lowest intelligence and are incompetent at handling most things. Monster men are typically undesired by women. Monster women eat them purely to increase their magic powers and strength. Because of the cruel fate of monster men, most turn to a life of crime and eat women, hoping that they could become monster women or futanari themselves to escape their fate and reach the top of the food chain.

VORE

RULES AND LAWS OF CONSUMPTION

THE BASICS AND BENEFITS

Women are the only beings legally allowed to participate in vore. Their jaws can unlock, and their mouths and bellies can widen to accommodate any size or multiple prey. They also consume tiny humans called micros that spontaneously appear and hide around the city. Eating someone has the potential to acquire some of their features and traits, such as:

- Magical capabilities
- Knowledge and skills
- Bigger bust and butt
- Physical strength
- Physical features

After digesting a being, a woman temporarily gains a bigger bust and butt; however, this is temporary. For her to grow her assets and keep them, she needs to consume multiple prey to stack on the extra fat. Women with huge breasts love to show them off as it's a symbol that they are an effective pred. Thick women with huge breasts and butts are admired and often given more overall respect.

THE CONSUMPTION LIST

The consumption list is a registry that lists beings that can be hunted and eaten by anyone in the city. The consumption list is used as punishment to rid society of criminals and those in debt. The Bellies and Banger's restaurant is one of many who use this list to gather prey for their customers. It does lead to some intense competition as once someone is on the consumption list they will find themselves pursued by multiple preds relentlessly. However, for various reasons, one can submit a consumption permit and willingly be put on the list. Since monster women hold the most power in the city, they rarely appear on the consumption list except in rare circumstances where their crimes can't be overlooked.

Typical crimes that will land someone on the consumption list

- Any substantial debt or failure to pay a loan
- Theft or fraud
- A male being who eats a female being.
- Eating a male attending university
- Eating a female not on the consumption list
- Eating a male that is in a contract
- Eating a male with consumption exemption status

This system keeps the hungry masses of demi-humans and monster women satiated while balancing a healthy population to keep the city functioning. Occasionally, the mayor will make an executive order to either cull the population or cut back on consuming other beings if the free market is not regulating itself properly. In those cases, the consumption list is changed accordingly

CONSUMPTION POWER LEVEL

Everyone has what is called a consumption power level. The consumption power level determines if a being can successfully swallow someone their size or larger. The consumption power level is like a magic aura that can interact with another. Some beings, such as monster women, are naturally born with a high consumption level, making them natural preds. However, anyone, including men, can be born with a high consumption power level.

When a pred touches a being they intend to eat, the aura of their consumption power levels is compared to theirs. If the prey has a strong consumption level, they can escape the pred's grasp and resist being eaten. However, if they have a weaker consumption level, then their life force is temporarily sucked out of them, which allows the pred to swallow them with little resistance.

Once they are inside the stomach of the pred, their strength returns, and they can make a futile attempt to escape as the stomach walls contract and tighten around them. Physical strength, size difference, and digesting another being can add to one's consumption power level.

When a being hits their prime age, their consumption power level gradually declines and gets weaker with no way to recover. For humans, it's 100 years; for demi-humans, it's 200 years; for monster women, it's 500 years. Everyone will be eaten and digested at some point in their life. It is the natural cycle of things.

CONSUMPTION POWER AURA COLOR

CONTRACTS

RELATIONSHIPS/ MARRIAGE

CONTRACTS

Contracts are a magical and legal bonding agreement between two beings. A contract is when one being willingly belongs to another being. The dominant one is referred to as the mistress. Most contracts are formed after graduating from Umaishima University. The mistress or the one serving her can break the contract at any time. However, if one decides to leave the contract, they must seek and get the person who magically bonded them to the contract in the first place to break it. A Mistress can only have one contract at a time unless the city has granted her special privileges to have multiple.

Contract of Love/Marriage

This contract is usually among women. Some are not interested in having a subservient being under their control would instead find someone they genuinely like and want to protect. In these types of contracts, the pred allows the prey their freedom and is not interested in eating them until the prey peaks in age and their consumption level starts to decline

Contract of Protection.

This is a contract where a being seeks protection or gains something beneficial from another. Most contracts between men and women are one of convenience as this is a way for men not to be hunted by other hungry women. Sometimes, the mistress will pay off the debt of their prey so the prey does not end up on the consumption list in exchange for a contract. These contracts are risky because there is no guarantee for how long the pred will protect their prey, and they could get bored and eat them anyway. The prey will have to hope their mistress in the contract is merciful.

REINCARNATION

REBIRTH AND REVIVAL MAGIC

REINCARNATION

Beings who are eaten are absorbed by the pred and become a part of them temporarily. After an undetermined number of years, the prey are eventually reincarnated. Similar to waking up from a dream, they may have vague memories of their past life but no attachment to any people they knew or events that may have happened to them. To be reincarnated is a fresh start, for better or worse. They usually forget their lingering memories after a few days as they adjust to their new bodies. However, there are some whose past life may have made such a strong impression that they may remember enough to live on as if continuing from where they left off before being eaten. Sometimes, a being can be born with no memories of their previous life. This is because their previous life was perhaps one they wish to forget completely, and their soul yearns to start completely fresh. These beings adopt a new personality, completely shedding their old selves.

REVIVAL MAGIC

Some very powerful beings can create revival talismans to revive its owner after they have been eaten. The pred still gets all the benefits, but the prey is revived a few hours later. The revival talisman must be worn or be within a certain distance from its owner for the magic to work. A revival talisman can take the form of any item, but it's usually something small the owner can wear at all times. These talismans are used for various reasons, such as the pred's pleasure of repeatedly eating and digesting a favorite prey. Sometimes, criminals are lucky to have a revival talisman to trick their hunters into thinking they were completely digested. However, giving one of these talismans to a criminal is a crime and can land the magician on the consumption list. Because of their rarity, there is a black market for these talismans. The only way to completely digest someone with a revival talisman is to destroy it physically or with magic.

UMAI UNIVERSITY

ATTENDING UMAISHIMA UNIVERSITY

THE UNIVERSITY

Once a being is born, they need to attend Umaishima University for four years to get their degree and figure out their role in society. Men and women attend classes together, and during this time, women are not allowed to eat the men currently attending classes. Usually, if a woman eats a male, she could end up on the consumption list. However, some beings born of a higher class and influence tend to get away with it. It's still in poor taste. The men are often left alone to finish their degrees, which gives them four years of immunity.

When a being is born, they have the basic knowledge and understanding of the world from their birth mother. However, her skills and more complex knowledge do not usually pass on, but may inspire her children to pursue a specific career.

The major degrees are:

- Medical
- Engineering
- Business
- Social Science
- Fine Arts
- Law and Criminal Justice
- Culinary
- Spiritual
- Architecture
- Computer Science
- Media Studies

UNIVERSITY HOUSES

New students of the university are assigned houses which they wear as an emblem on their uniforms. The different houses are as follows.

Rose Coil House: Cute and Sweet.

Students in the Rose Coil House are typically cute and sweet, indulging in everything feminine. Students in this house are typically irresistibly charming and beautiful.

Onyx Coil House: Cruel and Dangerous

Students in the Onyx Coil House are almost always preds as they tend to be sadistic, manipulative or assertive. Most of the city's powerful and feared preds come from this House.

Amber Coil House: Studious and Serious

Students in the Amber House tend to be quiet and diligent, working hard to achieve whatever goals they want to achieve. Students in this house focus less on their vorish instincts and rather live simple lives.

Ruby Coil House: Free Spirit and Adventurous

The students in this house are wild and energetic. Because of their adventurous personality, they are more likely to, sleep around, break the law, and live by their own rules.

Amethyst Coil House: Servitude and Loyalty

Students in this house live to serve others and are eager to please. They are quick to make contracts as they live to be submissive to others. Males and willing prey are common in this house.

MORE UNIVERSITY INFORMATION

Those who do not meet the passing requirements to obtain one of the major degrees will have to get other non-specialized jobs. Any male who graduates in the top 10% of a major degree gets immunity from the consumption list and does not need to be in a contract with a female being for consumption protection.

Attending the University is not free in Umaishima. Most beings, being newly born, have to take out a loan to finance their degrees. If they are lucky and have a family, one of their parents will pay for it for them. This is more common among monster women who pride themselves on their family bloodline and are most likely to take care of their daughters. Failure to pay back this loan within ten years of graduating results in being placed on the consumption list even if one is in a contract. Everyone must prove their value to the city, or they become food.

A newly born being can choose not to go to Umaishima University, but they do not get immunity from being eaten for the first four years of their new life. It is rare for newly born beings to skip attending the University. Those who don't pursue a degree usually have special circumstances where they don't need any skills to survive, such as being valued as one who is highly fertile or a futanari who can easily get work in repopulating the city. Even beings born with the desire to be digested go to the University as a way to scope out a woman they wish to be a part of.

LIFE AND DIGESTION

LIFE CYCLES OF BEINGS

REPRODUCTION OF NEW BEINGS

Men are infertile, and women have low fertility in general. Women can only be impregnated by futanari women, who are usually tasked to help repopulate the city. They are traditionally sex workers who are treated well and have a lot of respect in society.

Women can seek out futanari women who usually work at strip and dance clubs. Because women have a low fertility rate, being impregnated is a big deal, and often, the government pays any woman who births a new adult into existence. Women who enjoy the process of impregnation and birthing new beings take this up as a career and frequent the strip clubs. When pregnant, they love showing off their bellies publicly and are usually showered with a lot of attention. Some small perks include businesses offering free all-you-can-get food for pregnant women who are ravishingly hungry and eating for two adults.

In rare cases, a woman will be highly fertile with guaranteed impregnation. In these cases, these women have an obligation mandated by the government to aid in repopulating the city. They are pampered and given everything they want, but they are usually isolated from society as all their time and energy is spent birthing new beings. This bird-in-a-cage lifestyle may suit some, but some women avoid potentially finding out if they could be highly fertile to begin with. It is against the law to be forced to have non-consensual sex, but they are heavily bribed or are presented with multiple options for a future partner.

Beings are born as fully formed adults when birthed, with either the host mother or futanari's basic knowledge of how to take care of his/herself in society, but not any skills. Growing a fully formed being is a short process, taking only a few days. Once a being is born, they may choose to stay with their mother as family if she is interested, or they can go off on their own. It's in a newborn being's interest to immediately register for classes at Umaishima University.

Once born, a being does not physically age. However, after they get to a certain age, their consumption power declines, leaving them open to be eaten eventually.
