Goat Sales Contract & Policy

Sales Policy

Goats are herd animals, it is important that they are not alone. We will not sell a goat, unless the buyer already has goats or is buying multiple goats. If you are getting started we will be happy to discuss and help you develop your herd plans.

Reservations and Payment:

Knispel Farms offers a free waiting list. Each prospective buyer will be able to choose from all goats available at the time of notification. Upon notification, prospective buyers will have 24 hours to respond on which goats they want. A $50, non-refundable deposit is required per goat chosen and is due immediately in order to hold the goat(s).

We accept Venmo, CashApp, and Cash. Electronic forms of payment must be confirmed before animal(s) leave our property.

*Priority may be given to breeders that have performance herds. Performance herds include participating in milk testing, linear appraisal, and/or ADGA shows.

Health:

Animals are guaranteed healthy at the time of sale and before leaving our farm. We cannot control the environment the goat will be in upon leaving or how the goat will respond to travel or relocation.

Knispel Farms is not responsible for any death, illness, or injury of any kind. Once the goat leaves our farm no further health guarantees are provided. All sales are final.

*No guarantees for size, production, future health, show quality, kid production, and udder quality.

Registration, Tattoo, & Disbudding:

All kids will leave disbudded and with initial CDT.

Registered animals will also be tattooed with registration papers or registration application.

Transportation & Pickup:

The buyer is responsible for pickup from our farm or making the shipping arrangements, including all associated costs. We do not provide ground transportation it is the buyer's responsibility to secure transportation, if needed.

*If you want or your state requires a health certificate from a veterinarian, the buyer is responsible for all costs.

Thank You:

Here at Knispel Farms we strive for quality animals and experiences. We will answer any questions you may have and encourage communication about best practices. Thank you for your support, as well as, connections in community.
