

You can't prevent what you can't see!

Now more than ever organizational facilities need the ability to restrict access, track, monitor and record movement inside and out. An integrated surveillance system combined with an access control system can help you keep people and property safe.

Take control with real time notifications.

Real time notifications, with full site surveillance and one step lockdowns can help you control your entire facility. Live feeds can be viewed on multiple devices by on and offsite security and first responders.

Pinnacle has years of experience helping schools, universities, jails, courts, law enforcement, and other government agencies implement and manage complete access control and surveillance solutions.
