Chasing Impacts—On the Clock or in the Wild.

About

I am on one mission: the relentless pursuit of performance. I compete in USPSA, PRS, and PCSL while living the hunting lifestyle year-round. My content reflects the discipline, focus, and systems behind skill development—both on the range and in the field. Nothing is shared without purpose. Everything I feature is tested under real-world pressure.

Content Focus

- Competitive shooting breakdowns and training insights
 - Field-tested hunting gear and stories from the field
 - Long-form podcasts and commentary through Chasing Impacts
 - Gear testing, evaluation, and review protocol

Content Types Available for Collaboration

- Product testing & reviews (video)
 - Match-day or field-use footage
 - Podcast mentions or interviews
 - Long-form gear breakdowns and behind-the-scenes content
 - Giveaways or discount code partnerships

Trusted Gear I Use

(These are not current sponsors but products I run and trust.)

- Atlanta Arms – Match ammo
 - Vortex Optics – Rifle and red dot glass
 - Brownells – Tools, small parts, and firearm components

Why Partner With Me?

Every piece of content I publish is grounded in real performance. If it's shown or mentioned, it's been used under pressure—on the clock or in the wild. I don't promote what I haven't tested. My platform is built on trust, and my audience knows that what I run is earned.

“If I share it, it's because I believe in it—and it performs.”

I'm looking for partnerships with brands who value precision, long-term vision, and purpose-driven content.
