PRESS RELEASE

Launching Coética – Spanish Center for Peace and Ethical Coexistence

A New Initiative for Ethics, Peace, and Coexistence

Barcelona, March 23, 2026.

In a global context marked by rising tensions and social fractures, Coética emerges with the purpose of promoting and strengthening an empowering ethical culture capable of sustaining respect for diversity, dialogue, and cooperation among individuals and communities.

The multiple crises affecting the world are undermining coexistence among individuals and social groups within each country. Likewise, the conflicts experienced by some nations also impact international relations, reflecting the “global village” of the information age. In response to this reality, Coética has been established as a center dedicated to promoting the ethical values of peace and coexistence, which serve as essential foundations for a more humane and solidaristic shared life.

Local Dimension

How individuals and communities share and shape the space of everyday life together.

Global Dimension

The shared responsibility to maintain peace and foster just and supportive human relations.

Through critical thinking, dialogue, education, and humanitarian initiatives, Coética seeks to contribute to the development of a culture of respect and coexistence, one that transforms diversity into opportunities for encounters and collaboration across cultures and communities.

"Lasting peace begins within people before it emerges between peoples. That is why Coética exists: to cultivate this culture of ethical coexistence, from which everything else is built."

Dr. Lakhdar Hammadi, Founder of Coética

The Center aims to be an open space for researchers, educators, professionals, and citizens committed to promoting peace and coexistence—a space where intellectual reflection goes hand in hand with human and social engagement. Coética invites all individuals and institutions that share these values to learn about its work, participate in its initiatives, and explore opportunities for collaboration.

About Coética

Coética is an independent center dedicated to promoting ethics, peace, non-violence, and coexistence among individuals and communities through research, education, and humanitarian action.
