About

The Sound & the Spirit

High Low Jack is a five-piece jam band rooted in the Grateful Dead tradition, born out of Rochester and the Finger Lakes region of New York. Drawing from rock, blues, and country, the band brings a loose, exploratory energy to every performance — honoring the spirit of Dead classics while stretching into grooves entirely their own.

Where most bands end a song, High Low Jack is just getting started. Their live shows are built around improvisation, with each performance taking on a life shaped by the room, the crowd, and the moment. Tapestries, pedal steel, and a deep catalog make every set feel like a traveling celebration.

From backyard parties to outdoor festival stages, High Low Jack has built a devoted following across the region — the kind of fans who follow them show to show because no two nights are ever the same.
