PVC Stretch Film Lighted Ceiling

The cylindrical light box posed a significant architectural challenge due to its curved shape and the need to ensure that the light emitted was evenly distributed throughout the structure. The design process involved careful consideration of the materials used and the placement of the light sources to achieve the desired effect. Despite the challenges, the end result was a stunning visual element that added to the overall beauty and functionality of the building. The cylindrical light box serves not only as a source of illumination but also as a unique architectural feature that sets the building apart and draws the eye of admirers. Its design is a testament to the creativity and skill of the architects and engineers who brought it to life.
