Freedom / Loyalty

“For you to be an Essene man / an Essene woman in the pure and impersonal service of God in reality and in action, you must not attach yourself to anyone, nor to your lower nature.

In each one, there is the divine, the earthly human and the diabolical. You must know this, recognize it and distinguish between these in yourself and in the other.

Do not attach yourself to the person, but attach yourself to the divine.

Tolerate the earthly and avoid the diabolical.

If the work requires it, you must be able to leave the being who is dearest to you, for what is worthy of love in all beings is the divine and not the mortal self.

In all beings God lives and you can find God in all beings.

In all beings there lives a person, an earthly self which, in its origin, is an instrument of God, of the immortal being.

In all incarnated ones there lives a part of shadow which must be transformed into wisdom.

God alone has this power and that is why you must attach yourself only to God.

This attitude must not turn into insensitivity and into a lack of attraction, compassion, love and recognition for the person, in yourself and in the other.

If you recognize the manifestation of God in a being, then you must be faithful to God, you must plant the standard of eternity and loyalty.

The great ancestors of the Essene tradition must be honored in remembrance, for they have manifested and made known God and His work of liberation.

Be faithful to God and to His instruments, to His envoys, but let this respect not become a cult of personality.”
