

Psalms of the Archangel Michael

276. Give a body to wisdom

1. Very often you come to me and ask me what you must do in order to serve God and the great common good. Today, I ask each of you who together constitute the Essene Nation on earth to open a living and conscious space dedicated to the worship of the statue of the Light and more particularly to the wise tradition, to eternal wisdom and to its body on earth.
2. Give a body to wisdom so that it may be alive in your midst, present, and guide you in the choices of your life.
3. Do nothing, make no decision without consulting the oracle of wisdom incarnate in the statue of God.
4. Surround this statue with a circle of sages, true parents, able to take care of God in everything and keep Him pure at the center of the statue of angelic light.
5. Form this circle of wise men before the passage of the jubilee.
6. Let this circle take care of the Gospels, the psalms.
7. Understand that the teaching of God has several levels. There is the preparation phase, in which man needs to know himself, to understand his visible, subtle and magical environment. This knowledge is necessary to awaken your consciousness, settle you, develop your discernment and your organs in the acquisition of relative freedom. There is the phase when man must become a servant, a conqueror, a builder. For this, he must achieve inner enlightenment.
8. These are the sacred superior worlds that nourish the inner man in purity, Light and strength.
9. You need contact with the superior worlds of wisdom to obtain true understanding and above all to nourish certain beings who reside in you and around you. If these beings have no contact with the presence of the superior worlds, they are weakened, like the soul which, being no longer in contact with the body, could be extinguished by the consciousness of earthly life.
10. The circle of sages must be in meditation and the strength of wisdom contained in the psalms.
11. The psalms are the living bread and the bond with God and his intelligence. They are the soul and strength of Light that enliven the statue of the worship of immortality. The circle of sages must be instructed in this science and at the service of this beauty.
12. This circle is primordial, because it is fundamental for every Essene, breathe and to think in the subtle worlds of the wisdom of God and the magical presence of the Light, which takes a body in the statue of the mysteries and the religion of God.
13. The pronunciation and recitation of psalms as an offering to God is an activity that must become paramount in the Essene Nation.
14. Each Essene, man and woman, must be an antenna that receives and transmits the soul of the body of God through the psalms thought, felt and lived from within.
15. The Circle of the Sages is to become a powerful amplifier, enabling not only to create a field of creative force around the Statue, but also to radiate this field of life and influence, of nourishment in all directions in order to make resound the call of God for the good turn of the heart and to open the way of the new education which leads to the awakening of God in man, to the mastery of destiny and to immortality.

16. The circle of sages is to bring understanding of divine laws and activate the words of God. It is a sacred government, pure, impersonal, free from the dark side, dedicated to God.
17. These beings must have made a conscious and free commitment before God and his light, his wisdom, his incarnation in the statue at the heart of the Round of the Archangels.
18. These beings must be dedicated to the service of God, wisdom at the center of the circle.
19. I do not want beings who will be exclusively intellectuals from the world of men or animists, beings who speak without knowledge and without mastery.
20. The glorification of wisdom is the essence of the worship of the Light.
21. Wisdom is the Light, which takes on a body and becomes alive in the daily life of man, protecting him from evil.
22. This service of God must be for the good of all, for wisdom is good to all beings.
23. God is love and wisdom glorifies the God of love and his sacred flame.
24. When the psalms are pronounced by the circle of sages, it will be the presence of God who has become real in the Statue and the Word. It will be the word of God and God will be alive and acting in the Word.
25. The psalms must be pronounced as a subtle, delicate word, like the wind that passes by without attacking, but which gently awakens all the senses so that man does not listen to the Word while falling asleep, but by awakening, by capturing the heat in all his subtle centers and by seeking another understanding so that the life within him becomes greater than the body and death.
26. I tell you, if you ask me what it is necessary to do to honor God, my answer is simple: make appear a sacred college of sages, a circle of enlightened parents who live only to honor, serve, protect wisdom, the love of knowledge, the vision of the subtle and divine worlds.
27. That this college be made up of free individualities who unite in a community of love not only to study and serve the psalms of God, but also to live out their wisdom
28. Let this circle live in the intelligence of the immortal light that enlightens in true knowledge. May he not be fearful in front of the world of man and may he not be naive in the world of spirituality. May it be placed on a nourishing and fruitful earth, as a mother can do with her womb in order to bring goodness and blessing for body and soul.

Father Michaël, can this circle of wise men be opened to all the holy assembly, to those who reside in the diaspora, outside the Essene Villages?

29. This circle is the heart of the Essene Nation, God's government on earth.
30. That you should go outside to invite all men to receive the blessing and treasure that is the Essene Nation, the work of God, it is obvious. But before that, you must be prepared, have laid the structure in stability and have generated a permanent center of force that renews itself, breathes and radiates to seed all the worlds.
31. This circle of the wise is a new stage in your great work as builders; it is somewhat a guarantee of an intelligent, organized, controlled functioning based on the psalms.

32. The psalms are the manifested and condensed intelligence of God which now wants to become alive in intelligence, living understanding, the field of life of the loving heart, the force of will and deeply lived inner experience. The energy thus generated by the circle must condense into the and the and other statues so that a powerful field of force and current of energy is manifested and acts on all the earth and in all consciences.
33. The psalms and the statue animated by the holy circle are intelligence, word, commandments, law, the presence of God.
34. In the ancient tradition of the Light, this circle was called: the doctors of the Law. It was the readers, those who spoke and brought to life the words of God in order to saturate the atmosphere and make it alive and active.
35. This circle of the wise should not be in the interest, the politics, the ambitions of the world of men, but its members must stand pure, awake, committed, responsible before God and in his impersonal service. Thus, the covenant with God, the government of God will be able to be reborn on earth and God will be able to be present, living and acting on earth. His thought, word, and will will be known and expressed as evidence, subtlety, delicious food that can make double the statue grow, and thus the presence of God in an ever-larger world, wider, more noble and totally free from the interest of the world of men, which attaches everything to death.
36. The circle of sages must be made up of readers, psalmist, committed beings who in conscience aspire to make God appear. They must be pure, neutral, impersonal and in the broadest and purest understanding of what the great Archangels of God have brought throughout these years to this circle of pioneers, prophets assembled to honor God.
37. Know that the Light is sovereign, that it is omnipresent, immortal and that only man does not have the organs to perceive it in his intrinsic being.
38. Man is a handicapped person because he lives only with the senses which are at the service of the mortal body. He did not want to take these senses out of the slavery of the mortal body and its existence.
39. Thus, he has deprived himself of the direct knowledge of the superior worlds which live in honoring and serving the immortal light.
40. Men fundamentally seek to stabilize existence in their physical bodies, and it is towards this end that they direct the light.
41. I am speaking to you of a wisdom and a light which are beyond the body and of the being who lives in the body for the body. This wisdom does not depend on the existence of the body and its activity. It is subtle and depends on the double of man, whom man does not know himself.
42. The double is man who lives in the subtle worlds, and it is necessary for man to meet him and know him in order to know himself and to be able to become an awakened and conscious servant of the higher worlds.
43. The double of man and the double of the Statue, which is the original man willed by God, must merge. Thus, man will be inhabited by a higher world. If man sets his eyes only on the world of man, which is dedicated and doomed to death and recycling, he will never perceive the magical double, the other part of himself who lives in the subtle worlds.
44. Some initiatic schools from the great current of Light have called this double: the astral body, the second man. I tell you for your information, but a great disturbance has been caused in these currents and they have lost their purity.

45. This double is regenerated by the worship of the Light and the Statue.
46. The Statue is the mineral receptacle of the double, which must be nourished by the psalms and by the circle of sages.
47. This work is a service of God to humanity and the earth. If it is not accomplished, men will have no other path than to undergo the enslavement of the body, which will link them to recycling and the second death.
48. By the knowledge of the second man and the magical double, you can enter into the subtlety of the worlds and bring forth the perfect image of immortal man in the will of God. Thus, you could be the dancers in the world of man, those who cannot be seized.
49. I ask you to fulfill my wish, my wishes, my request.
50. Let the lovers of wisdom arise and unite in a holy circle of consciousness and love in order to pronounce the psalms and interpret them by putting all the colors, flavors, and beauties that are only in the small form of a psalm, but which, in reality, can bring out a whole story.
51. Rise up, commit yourselves, fulfill the vows of Archangel Michael.
