

Psalms of Archangel Gabriel

266 Do not waste the energies of money.

1. “Do not waste the energies of money on illusory interests.”
2. Humans consider money as the holy grail of life. They give themselves fully, they even offer their children so that this grail can enter into their lives. They think that money is the great blessing that will allow them to fulfill all their wishes, that it is the supreme gift and that if they manage to obtain it, they will have succeeded, but that without it, they have no life and nothing has interest.
3. Through this commandment, I want to transmit to you the idea of economics and of wealth.
4. Money is not only a material world; it is first of all the materialization of energy, of the creative force, which is in association, in affinity with certain laws and virtues.
5. In general, man thinks that money must be mastered, materialized, organized to yield a profit, to bring a rapid expansion and allow achieving concrete goals. I say to you that money is an energy that seeks anything but the virtues that have just been mentioned because it likes expansion, growth and development above all. This energy is in the image of water flowing through your hands: you can benefit from its presence to cool yourselves off, quench your thirst, clean yourselves, but it will continue to circulate. If you confine it, it will become stagnant, putrid, foul, attracting all kinds of unhealthy worlds until you will have no other choice than to remove it from your lives.
6. Money is a creative force that likes to mix with impersonal beings, for they know how not to block or close in the worlds.
7. Impersonal beings are always in the service of a greater idea; they are listening, always ready to seize the opportunities that present themselves, accepting to live another one without being prisoners of the thought of money. They are neither miserly nor afraid, they do not try to confine, to control everything, not thinking that in this way they would have security.
8. The being of money will multiply and bring abundance when men will know how to use it, welcome it, honour it, lead it towards a limitless expansion.
9. If man is motivated by fear, if he wants to enslave money, to confine it in banking accounts or structures serving only to meet the personal and mortal satisfactions of life, the fruit he will reap will be poverty. He will only use what he will have been able to recover from this energy, but it will not multiply and life will become a desert.

10. Happiness is water that circulates, that propagates itself so that all beings can flourish, dress themselves with beautiful colours, bear fruit and enter into the great sharing.
11. Money likes to get richer, it likes to grow and to be free to serve the Common Good.
12. If man is afraid, afraid of lacking, afraid of not meeting the requirements of his personal life, it blocks the circulation of energy by concepts, by attitudes, by behaviours that lead him to close in everything. Then the water begins to stagnate, it is lost and nothing grows, expands, becomes wealthy.
13. In the name of money, man kills money.

Olivier Manitaro then asked Archangel Gabriel:

Father Gabriel, what are the right consciousness, attitude and behaviour to be able to welcome and multiply this energy that is not only a material world that we must master?

Archangel Gabriel answered:

14. Money is not a goal in itself, a necessity, but a means to achieve a beautiful, just, noble work.
15. Money does not like the man who considers it as the ultimate goal.
16. Money is at the service of God and not of itself.
17. Money does not like to be denatured, it likes to be a blessing in life to fulfill noble goals.
18. Money loves generosity, kindness, caring, truth. That is why whatever happens in his life, man must be intelligent, sensible, generous, impersonal enough to give this energy the opportunity to become bigger when it approaches him. In this way all beings who approach money will become richer, wiser, happier, healthier because he will have managed to amplify the energy that was brought to him, to make it grow, to lead it towards expansion. He will not have confined it, blocked it, seeking to hold on to the forces, to slow them down.
19. The power of money is exclusively a world of growth, which does not confine, which cannot be mastered, but is generous, creative, which only gets bigger.
20. Each time it touches hands or beings that are generous, money multiplies, it grows. It is like a boomerang: the more you give, the more it gives you. It is a blessing and like everything that happens in life, it should be welcomed as it is and not as you want it to be.
21. The blessing of money must be free to increase, to grow, for when the energy of money is in you, the spirits, the invisible worlds awaken around you, become intelligent, sensible and set to enlightening everything. This allows you to see how to transmit this energy to those around you, even to humanity.
22. If man puts out the Light by trying to keep everything for himself, to hold on to everything, maybe he will be rich for a time, that is, as long as the little he will have accumulated will last. On the other hand, his whole environment will be poor, for no one will benefit from this energy blocked by an individual who lives in fear, who wants to control everything and who, ultimately, closes the worlds into poverty. At that moment, the energy of money has already gone somewhere else.

23. When the blessing is no longer there, everything that man does goes towards failure, tapering off, smallness to finally go out.
24. If the energy is not there anymore, everything goes out.
25. The secrets of wealth are that one must not want to be rich, must not want to possess money, but rather be like it, be at the service of a higher world, be oneself a growing energy that seeks to multiply the good, to circulate from one being to another being to bring happiness, that continually wants to grow and make everything that is beautiful grow.
26. As soon as the energy of money is frozen inside a prison, it can no longer live, it goes out.
27. Analyze in your life attitudes what makes you block or free the worlds. In this way you will understand the laws and the virtues of the creative force, which cannot get close to the beings who confine.
