

Psalms of Archangel Gabriel

268 You shall be active and creative.

1. “You shall be active and creative for what you believe to be true. You shall not be passive and unconscious, but you shall remain vigilant and balanced in front of the influences that want to destroy life. Each new day that life offers you, you shall use to build the world of the Light and not to associate with those who open a path towards nothingness.”
2. Many humans believe that life is completely drawn out, that they just have to move, to take a step so that destiny appears and that they can understand what is expected of them.
3. Yes, the main lines of life are written, but one must not be unconscious, for man also has his part, that of consciousness, which makes it so there is always a balance to be found, an opportunity to be seized, an individual choice that must be made in front of the events and of the circumstances.
4. The unconscious one cannot grasp the subtle, he cannot understand the finesse and the esotericism of what presents itself in his life. Without any discernment, without selection, he accepts and adopts the thoughts, the worlds, the seeds that come visit him to put their children into the world and carry out works.
5. Know that even if the main lines of your life are written, you are always on a thread, in balance: you always have the choice between the virtues of the Light and the counter-virtues of the kingdom of the darkness.
6. Men very often choose the path that seems the easiest, the most obvious. In this way they become passive, preferring to be taken care of, dispossessed of their responsibilities, letting themselves be fecundated; this is the path of the unconscious ones, of those who abdicate.
7. It is hard for man to become conscious, to accept consciousness, to question himself, to awaken, to perceive reality.
8. I am the path of awakening in clarity, purity, honesty.
9. My child must be vigilant, awakened, in the art of reading the signs, of deciphering the wisdom of the events, of perceiving the worlds that appear as petitioners and messengers.
10. To choose the world of the Light is always a conscious, individual, inner decision, made with discernment, as a free choice. This decision must be made with serenity, in accordance with the great calm, with the blessing of the Mother and with Her school of wisdom.
11. The unconscious ones make decisions in panic, turmoil, suffering, the excitement of the moment and that is why they make wrong choices.

12. If you make the decision to serve the Light for wrong reasons, they will inspire you, will guide you, will animate you. These wrong reasons that were at the origin of your path will not lead you into the Light, but on the contrary, they will seek to steal what is beautiful in you and to make you weak in order to subjugate you. Then you will no longer control anything and your life will be destined to be a surrogate mother of children who will lead you into nothingness. You might be rich in the outer appearances, but you will be poor on the inside.
13. Every day, awaken your consciousness, commune with the Teaching and serve the nation of God.
14. Every morning, awaken, understand the new day, the new life and commit to giving the victory to the values of God, to His messengers, to His envoys.
15. Welcome the envoys of God and honour them during your day.
16. Let the new day not be one that confirms and revives the past mistakes to constantly lead you to be unconscious, passive and enslaved.

Olivier Manitaro then asked Archangel Gabriel:

Father Gabriel, how can we recover our free will and free ourselves from the worlds that we no longer want to live with?

Archangel Gabriel answered.

17. Through education, through tradition, men have certain leanings and are seduced by certain ideas, by ways of being and of living; in particular, they have this tendency to choose the easy path.
18. If God says to man that he must abstain from doing something because it will enchain him and will lead him to weaken the Light inside him, he will find this discipline too restrictive. The other voice will say to him that the most important thing is to master, to succeed, to enjoy and to direct life where he wants it. Then man will be interested and will find this path pleasant, seductive, intelligent, and finally, he will do the corresponding acts and will be subjected to the darkness. He will like the darkness because he will find that it is not binding, that it offers a concrete, easy to fulfill objective. This might seem easy but, in reality, it will not be at all and with time, will even be extraordinarily complicated.
19. The darkness likes confusion, perdition.
20. The Light tells you not to touch what can hurt you, for afterwards, when you are enslaved, you will come crying and asking for forgiveness with the hope of being freed from the consequences of your actions and of your choices and able to start again at zero.
21. Every day is new, it is a new opportunity that rises on the horizon with the sun.
22. Every day is a new incarnation and every day, you have to seed the earth with the works of God.
23. Every day, you must know what to do and not to do. For this, you must put yourself in the sacred space of the communion with the Covenant, with the nation that works consciously for God.

24. You must place yourself on the Essene earth, where the Mother is alive, where Her school is active.
25. You must call the new way of seeing the world and of perceiving life.
26. You must awaken confidence in you through the earth, the heaven and the Angel of the Round of Archangels.
27. You must feel, with certainty, being deeply convinced of it, the communion with the higher intelligence that governs the nation of God beyond men.
28. You must stay in the sacred, pure, inviolate, neutral space.
29. It is not because the day before, you carried out a work that you must take it for granted.
30. Awaken and know what you must lead into continuity and what you must put out.
31. Do not let yourself be guided, inspired by the dark side. Do not let it decide and make choices in your stead, do not let it enter the space of this day.
32. Even if the world of men seems familiar, reassuring to you, do not let its false easiness influence you, lead you. It is not the solution that you seek, for it is towards nothingness and the dead end that it leads you.
33. Awaken and consciously enter into the Covenant.
34. Stand in the circle of the Round of Archangels and in the magical atmosphere of the Essene Nation, which is animated by the Gods, the Archangels and the Angels. Take your life in hand from the vibrant impulsion of this higher world.
35. Be active and creative as if you were at the beginning and that in the circle of this day, you had to carry out all your work and all the work of God.
36. Give the victory to the Angels, to their beautiful virtues, to the loving intelligence.
37. Show humanity and all beings that God is alive, true, blessing, wisdom and that nothing in the life of man is more interesting, captivating, rewarding than to be a servant of God, to carry His children and to accomplish His will.
38. You are on a thread, in balance. So, do not play, but remain awakened, conscious, vigilant, attentive in such a way not to fall into what will inevitably lead you towards suffering. If you fall in this way, you will return towards God, supplicating Him to help you, to deliver you from your mistakes, to give you wisdom and the path that will allow you to make it through and make everything new. In this case, you will only be an ordinary man, like the unconscious ones who, finally, approach the Light to be saved, to be protected, but not to be saviours and protectors themselves.
39. Do not be an ungrateful one, choosing the darkness as long as it works, then, when the consequence comes, running into the arms of your Father and your Mother of Light to ask for forgiveness and to be completely taken care of.
