

Psalms of Archangel Gabriel

287. The Law of Trial, Awakening and Wisdom

1. For everything that occurs in your life, there is an apparent or hidden reason.
2. No suffering is without cause.
3. Many men live through trial in an unconscious and passive way. They tell themselves that it is a punishment or else the fruit of chance.
4. I tell you that in everything wisdom reigns.
5. No matter what the trial is, know that nothing comes from nothing and that all that happens contains a deep meaning and seeks either to awaken man or to stop him in acts that could be irreversible for his destiny.
6. Learn to consider trial as a blessing. For the one who walks on the path of awakening and of the service of immortality, it cannot be otherwise.
7. Trial is a protection that prevents stubbornness and perseverance in error.
8. Without trial, error could not only become deeply inscribed in the life of man, but be transmitted to future generations like an indelible writing.
9. Trial pushes man to awaken and to straighten himself.
10. That is why you must not be plaintive before trial, thinking that it falls upon you by chance. I tell you that chance has nothing to do with this story.
11. Trial is linked to your lineage, to your way of living, of thinking, of listening, of looking, of breathing, of speaking, of walking. It is a call to awakening, to observation, to meditation which allow you to recenter yourselves and to open yourselves to the world and to others.
12. The one who has suffered very often looks at the world differently.
13. Suffering is not obligatory; it is the result of a lack of wisdom.
14. You must always seek to lead trial towards wisdom.
15. All that you live must have as its aim to be led into a positive experience so as to be offered to God, to His statue, to His cult of wise light and to His body of immortality.
16. All that will not be offered to God will be lost, for God allows only wisdom to draw near to Him and to enter into His body.
17. Do not persist stubbornly in error.
18. Do not remain blocked in the world of trial by focusing on it and going over it again and again all your life.
19. Trial is a passage, a means of paying debts and above all of awakening and moving on to something else.

20. If trial comes, it is the moment to pay and to transform yourself. See this as a blessing and do not be resentful; do not let yourselves be caught in the trap of discontent and bitterness.
21. It is just and wise to pay one's debts and to free oneself from the dark.
22. Bearing a grudge against yourself, against the whole world or against God will not solve the problem, quite the contrary.
23. Tell yourselves that God has blessed and protected you by not allowing you to go too far on the path of perdition and recycling. It is like a good fairy who comes close to you and enables you to fulfill your wish, not to want just anything, but to aspire to change your life, your behaviour, your attitude and your vision.

Father Gabriel, what can we do when the trial is unbearable and destroys everything inside us?

24. Trial comes when man has created around himself a world that is no longer manageable and negotiable.
25. If you let trial enter into you and settle in so that it is it that governs your life and no longer the light of God and of the Angels, you will not understand the law of awakening and of walking with God by leading everything towards the body of immortal wisdom.
26. The one who lets himself be brought down by trial is a child who has no other aim in his life than himself and his toys. He will look at trial as an injustice, a punishment, a fatality. Yet it is enough to look just to the side to realize that the sun is still there. Now, if you decide to close the curtains of your house and to remain in suffering because things did not happen as you had decided, you will cause inner wounds that will be indelible. They will live in you and at the slightest occasion they will ceaselessly remind you of their existence, linking you to the subterranean world.
27. The aim of life, of trial and even of suffering is not to engender wounds that do not heal, but on the contrary to rediscover the youth of the soul, of the spirit, of inner life.
28. The body is one thing and the destiny that animates and leads the body is another.
29. The body belongs to the world of recycling.
30. Destiny belongs to the world of death, to the beyond, to the invisible, to the double.
31. It is important to separate the worlds clearly and not to cross certain boundaries.
32. You can make mistakes with your body, such as taking a wrong step, but you must not engender debts in the invisible worlds, create a bad writing or call unhealthy spirits.
33. An Essene must be in a good association and stand in the alliance and blessing of God.
34. The Angel of gratitude must be your shield, your armour, your fortress.
35. Do not associate yourselves with the spirits of discontent, of slander and of disturbance.
36. Be in awakening, in study, in the service of God and in thanksgiving.

37. Give thanks continually for your life and for all that is given to you by God and His servants.
38. Give thanks for all that you have and for all that you can undertake with it.
39. Do not be sad about what you do not have.
40. God is just. God is wise. God is good.
41. It is up to you not to destroy what God has given you by refusing trials and by drawing no wisdom from what you are led to live.
42. Believe me, when you have understood the law of trial, of awakening and of wisdom, your whole life will change, for you will no longer have the same behaviour, the same attitude and the same consciousness.
43. Very often, it is enough to look a little to the right or to the left to realize that the sun is there, that life is beautiful, that profusion imposes itself.
44. If you are plunged into turmoil and it forces you to look at the world in a particular way, this does not mean that this vision will last forever; it is temporary, it waits for you to awaken in order to stop engendering debts and making the beings around you discontent.
45. You must not pass into another world leaving waste and debts behind you.
46. Each stage of life must be placed on stable and wise ground so as to pass into the higher worlds being pure and clear.
47. You must not live in unconsciousness and irresponsibility and then complain about receiving the rod of correction.
48. Learn to lead everything towards wisdom so as to make appear the body of immortality, the body of dignity, of stability, of clarity.
