

Psalm of Archangel Gabriel

33 Do you know the true face of your soul?

1. The soul is the water of heaven, the water of God. Behind all the waters, whether they are spiritual or material, stands the living soul.
2. What is confusing, from the point of view of the divine world, is the capacity of men to change their philosophy, their way of thinking in a single day. In a single hour, man can change his face several times. He goes from a grimacing face to another, harmonious one, in a few minutes.
3. Man has a multitude of faces for all facets of his being, but behind all his masks, inside, in the hidden, stands the true luminous face of the soul. This face incarnates the cosmic principle of the beauty that works constantly in all the worlds to maintain harmony. This face is the magical mirror that the Gods look in.
4. The soul is the spouse of God, the place where man meets his Father, his Mother and understands that his family lives inside him. In this way the world of beauty can fecundate all the worlds.
5. No beauty comes from the dust that returns to dust. The soul, on the other hand, gathers the dust and reflects the divine beauty.
6. Without the active principle of beauty that protects them, men would become ugly, because everything they live would unconsciously register on their faces.
7. It is the face of your soul that keeps you and protects your harmony.
8. Every day, you have to try to contemplate the face of your soul through all your faces.
9. Wash your face with pure water and, consciously, try to awaken the beauty of your soul and let it show through your face.
10. The genuineness of the soul that shows through the face of dust is the key to beauty and self-knowledge.
11. All beauty comes from the quality of the spiritual water that shines through the form.
12. By finding the true face of your soul, you will give a face to the Light in the world of men.
