

Psalms of Archangel Raphael

69 Purify the air and live in the pure atmosphere of the Essene Nation.

1. The Essenes are faithful to the light of the Father. They gather together and call the divine world, invoke the angelic presence, pray, meditate and strive to establish contact with the higher worlds and preserve the covenant with them for the good of all beings. It is a beautiful and great mission, an honourable work that deserves the respect and esteem of each one. The Essenes seek in this way to know themselves, not in appearances, but through the presence of the eternal being that lives and acts in the deepest part of them.
2. To praise and worship the Father in the universe, but also in the depths of you, is right, for it is by being true yourself that you can call the higher worlds of the Covenant and present yourself in front of them.
3. Know that you are the earth: you have a body, but also a living atmosphere that surrounds your body. You can take flight like a bird and travel through the ethers, but you always have to return towards the reality of the body that structures you.
4. The earth is organized with wisdom. The same must be true of your bodies and your lives for your covenant with the higher worlds to be powerful and effective.
5. The Covenant is with you, but the divine world cannot do the work for you.
6. You receive the Teaching and the life of the world of Archangels.
7. We can surround you, guide you, protect you, assist you up to a certain point, but we cannot transform the atmosphere of the earth if you yourselves, men, constantly pollute it and associate with those who fight against what is divine.
8. Know that the atmosphere around your bodies is alive. It is alive from you and from others, from the relationships that act between you and others.
9. Entering the Round of Archangels or the temple of an Archangel is to acquire the unique opportunity to transform your atmosphere, your relationship with yourself, the other, the world. It is a path of awakening, purification and second birth. To transform the atmosphere is to change your body and the whole life. It is another life.
10. When you enter the sacred space of the Essene Nation and mix your breaths with that of the Light, when you address your messages, your prayers, your meditations to the world of the Fathers and the Father, it is with this atmosphere that you speak, that you take flight, that you communicate. You have to be aware of this.
11. If you do not heal the relationships between you and with nature and everything that exists in all the coarse and subtle manifestations that surround you and form you, if you allow stagnant and unhealthy situations to live and develop, around

- you is created an atmosphere, an ether that is not that of the Essenes or of those who take care of the Light with purity and awakened consciousness.
12. To wear the white robe of the Brotherhood of the Light is an honour, a splendour, a sacred service for universality. Men have lost the meaning of this dignity, of this greatness, for they have given power to what justifies their lowness. But you, the Essenes, must be faithful to the Father and maintain the covenant with the divine world in absolute purity for the good of all beings. You must only speak to the divine world through a pure ether. That is why you must maintain wisdom and discipline on the earth of men.
 13. Do you think you can clearly perceive the ethers if your own ethers are not clear? Do you believe that, by magic, your ethers can be purified because you stand in the temple of an Archangel and speak to the divine world? Yes, of course, magic works. It makes man realize that he has to take his life in hand and unite with the kingdom of his Father. Then he becomes a true Essene, an active being who works on himself for the good of the whole and for the victory of the Father and his covenant of Light.
 14. Know that the divine world will never create something around you that does not belong to you. Our association is a covenant, not a dictatorship. We give to the measure of what man prepares and can receive. That is why the Essenes are the house of the Father on earth: they know how to receive and apply the word of the Father to the point of offering Him a body on earth. This body is not only a body, it is also an atmosphere and a covenant of Light.
 15. The divine world will never do the work for you; this would be contrary to the law of the Father. It will give you the opportunity to serve a higher world, it will give you all the tools, the means, the methods so that you to do the work and carry out the work of your lives. One who wants to do this in your stead shows that he is a thief of light.
 16. Nothing can replace the work a man does in his life. It is the treasure, the future body.
 17. I ask you to enter my temple with respect.
 18. Heal the relationships that activate your organs.
 19. Purify the air that surrounds you and inhabits you. Breathe, consciously and with an awakened sensitivity, the light that comes towards you as wisdom, the words that come as truth, the breath of life that comes as the king of love. Make this presence circulate through all your organs in order to awaken and purify yourselves in your daily relationships.
 20. Come out of unconsciousness and instinct, regain the territories and organs of your bodies that you have lost.
 21. Make the light of the Covenant and of an awakened consciousness reign in your homes, in your bodies, your lives.
 22. Why do you want to live outside the atmosphere of the Essene Nation?
 23. Use the teaching you receive to heal the breaths that come out of you towards others through all your organs.

24. If you do not have clear and healthy relationships with yourselves and all those around you, do not expect to have them with the divine world. You inevitably have to pass through this sphere around you and through your organs to raise yourselves and reach the higher worlds. How will you do it? It is precisely this sphere of relationships that surrounds you and penetrates you that forms your beings and your future on a daily basis. So, support each other and give yourselves the means to heal what is around you and to live in pure, clear, conscious atmospheres that, gently and lovingly, bring the Teaching to life around you and in you.
25. Through the community, you will be able to obtain a pure ether, a clear and healthy atmosphere around you because there will be no nauseating and stagnant influences that will poison you, that will capture you and above all, that will constantly modify your inner states towards the divine world.
26. I, the Archangel of air, ask that your air be cleansed, not abstractly, but in the reality of the Essene Nation. Be this nation on earth so that the divine world lives among men.
27. Everything that comes out of man is recorded and imprinted around him and in him. This forms a colour, a living memory, a writing, a body, a soul that grow. Then, why hesitate and waste a single second of your precious time? Heal relationships, do not let anything false and rotting go into you and direct your lives and the lives of your organs. You will then know the right contact, universal life. What will come out of you will be heard and received in a right way without being distorted by the atmosphere of your relationships through a life of men dominated by death, a life of materialists, even spiritual, that colours your subtle bodies and places your souls into suffering and isolation.
28. You will say that you know all this science and ask why I am teaching you what you already know. It is because all of you who are in this temple have not understood this, otherwise your lives would be completely different. When you have practiced what I teach you, you will really understand and we will be together.
