

CANADIAMERICA — MEDIA KIT

This Is Not a Country. This Is Satire.

What Is CanadiAmerica?

CanadiAmerica is a satirical brand that uses humor, merch, and polite provocation to explore a fictional idea: what if Canada started looking... appealing? Built around irony rather than outrage, CanadiAmerica imagines a world where calm is radical, apologies are strategic, and healthcare isn't controversial.

What We Do

- Political satire without shouting
- Print-on-demand merchandise
- Editorial commentary and "official notices"
- Shareable digital content designed for conversation, not conflict

What We Are Not

CanadiAmerica is not a political party, movement, immigration program, or source of legal or political advice. No borders are moving. Please do not pack yet.

Why It Resonates

CanadiAmerica lives at the intersection of political fatigue, internet culture, Canadian understatement, and American intensity. It's satire for people who are tired of yelling — and suspicious of anyone who still is.

Tone & Style

Polite but pointed. Calm but provocative. Inclusive, ironic, and self-aware.

Tagline: Blue States Welcome. Sorry in Advance.

Contact

Website: <https://canadiamerica.com>

Media & Partnerships: hello@canadiamerica.com

For editorial use only. CanadiAmerica is a satirical brand. Please do not present as a political movement or country.