

The Perth Agreement

Declaration of Shared Commitment

We, the undersigned representatives of the world's major religious traditions, gather in Perth, Western Australia, in a spirit of unity and shared humanity.

Guided by the teachings of compassion, generosity, and justice within our faiths, we affirm this simple and fundamental principle:

That every person alive today — and every child yet to be born — should know they will have at least one meal every day.

Recognising that hunger is a universal moral challenge, we commit to offering moral leadership, fostering dialogue, and inspiring action within our communities to make this vision a reality.

Our Commitments

Shared Humanity We affirm the inherent dignity of every human being and our collective moral responsibility to ensure that no person goes hungry.

Unity and Collaboration We pledge to work together across religious, cultural, and national boundaries in pursuit of this shared goal.

Moral Guidance and Action We commit to providing moral leadership, encouraging open dialogue, and supporting practical steps within our communities so that every person, everywhere, receives a meal each day.

Signatories

In signing this Agreement, we reaffirm our dedication to the highest teachings of our traditions and our shared commitment to a more compassionate and equitable world.
