Nursing Ausbildung & Healthcare
Careers in Germany – September
2026 Intake

Germany Needs Healthcare Workers

Germany is currently facing a significant demand for skilled healthcare professionals, with over 54,000+ open healthcare positions across the nation. This critical shortage offers an excellent opportunity for international talent to build a rewarding career. Please note that while the Ausbildung salary is lower during the 3-year training period, post-qualification earnings are highly competitive and depend on your specific qualification and experience level.
