

- Winter's Breach -

The Story:

Rumor has it that if you drink this beer backwards, you can taste the true message of the brewery. Nah, we just say that to mess with you.

(or do we?)

The hops are blended to harmonize well with the dark base - It might look scary and murky, but it's a surprisingly fruit-forward beer.

Tasting Notes:

Slight roast, touch of liquorice, bright tropical watermelon, citrus, light flower bouquet. Medium soft bodied, fair carbonation.

Quick (nerdy) Facts:

- o Black IPA / Dark Cascadian
- o 4.7% ABV
- o 25 IBU
- o Hopped generously with Cascade and El Dorado hops.

Prices:

30L Key keg - 2590:-
24 x 33CL Cans - 750:-

Food Pairings:

Board game Suggestions:

Mörk Borg, Black Mold, Kingdom Death Monster