UnivArtis — Connecting Artists to Higher Education

Last updated: 18 February 2026

1. Nature of Information

The information provided on the UnivArtis website and through its services is for general informational and advisory purposes only. It does not constitute legal, financial, immigration, or academic advice and should not be treated as such.

2. Platform Identity

UnivArtis operates as an independent guidance, recruitment-support, and consulting platform for students, music professors, and higher education music institutions. UnivArtis is not a degree-granting institution, does not provide academic instruction, and does not act as an admissions authority for any university or conservatory.

3. No Guarantees

UnivArtis does not guarantee:

- Admission to any university, conservatory, or academic program
- The awarding of scholarships, grants, or financial aid
- Approval of visa or immigration applications
- Any specific academic or professional outcome

All admissions, funding, visa, and immigration decisions are made exclusively and independently by the relevant institutions, panels, committees, or government authorities. UnivArtis has no influence over such decisions.

4. Advisory Nature of Services

Any feedback, evaluations, consultations, recommendations, or strategic guidance provided through UnivArtis are advisory in nature only. They should not be interpreted as binding academic, legal, immigration, or financial commitments, warranties, or guarantees.

5. Accuracy of Information

While UnivArtis makes reasonable efforts to ensure the accuracy and currency of information published on the platform, it does not warrant that all information is complete, current, or applicable to every individual situation. Program requirements, deadlines, tuition fees, and institutional policies may change. Users are responsible for independently verifying all relevant institutional requirements and deadlines directly with the relevant institution.

6. Limitation of Liability

By using this website and associated services, you acknowledge and agree that UnivArtis, its affiliates, employees, contractors, and agents shall not be held liable for:

- Decisions made by third parties, including higher education institutions, professors, scholarship committees, or government agencies
- Any direct, indirect, incidental, or consequential loss or damage arising from your use of or reliance on information provided through UnivArtis
- Technical failures, errors, or interruptions of the platform

Nothing in this Disclaimer excludes or limits liability for fraud, gross negligence, willful misconduct, or any liability that cannot be excluded by applicable law. EU consumer statutory rights are not affected.

7. Legal Entities

- UnivArtis – sole proprietorship (JDG), ul. Na Popielówkę 49H, 32-087 Zielonki, Poland (EU entity)
- UnivArtis LLC – 3101 N. Classen Blvd, Suite 202, Oklahoma City, OK 73118, USA (US entity)

The entities operate in coordination to support international operations, payments, and regulatory compliance.
