

Muslim Purpose :

Islam offers profound strength to Muslims and humanity, fostering a harmonious balance between faith and actions, recognizing their essential roles in establishing stability and peace. Providing guidance in various situations, Islam is a practical religion, featuring worship acts intricately designed by Allah to address the spiritual, psychological, physical, and social needs of every individual.

Understanding the purpose of being a Muslim is crucial for our existence. Merely professing obedience to Allah without adhering to His rules raises questions. While performing essential acts like praying, fasting, charity, and Hajj align with Muslim practices, they may not fully define one as a true Muslim. It's essential to recognize that non-Muslims also engage in many things but muslim have not better, deeds in today's era. Our deficiency in defining a Muslim stems from a lack of practicality in embracing our faith, often limiting our understanding of worship to ritualistic acts without grasping their true meaning.

Reflect on the present state of Muslims. Despite claiming purity in worship, why are critical situations prevalent in the Muslim ummah? There's a perception that Muslims are merely nominal, lacking practicality and empathy, resembling lifeless bodies. These harsh realities confront Muslims daily. Viewing life as a series of desires, actions, and basic functions without accountability is a flawed concept. It reduces us to mere animals, failing to distinguish ourselves from non-Muslims. Recognizing this is essential for leading a purposeful life.

Allah Almighty Says in Quran :

"Did you think that we had created you in play (without any purpose) and that you would not be brought back to us"?

(Quran 23:115)

As above mentioned Verses it's cleared that there is a purpose of every single being, we don't come to this world without any purpose. We must have purpose to clarify, identify and definitely live accordingly which means accordance to islam as mentioned and in second part clearly mentioned that you would not be brought back to us?

Means if you think you are open handed to do any thing anyway any where as well you think there's no one to ask me it's your fault but you definitely will give the answer of every single act you did back to your life. In simple we don't come to this world for simply play and enjoyment . So what's you think now about your life as Muslim and What's your main identity ?

In other verse Allah Almighty Says:

Know well that the life of this world is merely sport and diversion and adornment and an object of your boasting with one another, and a rivalry in the multiplication of riches and children. Its likeness is that of rain: when it produces vegetation it delights the tillers. But then it withers and you see it turn yellow, and then it crumbles away. In the Hereafter there is (either) grievous chastisement (or) forgiveness from Allah and (His) good pleasure. The life of this world is nothing but delusion. (Quran 57:20)

The fundamental link between humans and worship lies in establishing a spiritual connection with a clear Islamic purpose. It involves not only recognizing your primary role but also practically following it. Islam offers the best way of life, encompassing the relationship between Allah, mankind, human interactions, and our connection with nature. By worshiping Almighty Allah and acknowledging Muhammad S.A.W as the final prophet, the essence of life is to adhere to this purpose. Allah has provided the right path through His prophets, and it becomes our duty to obey and integrate this righteous path into all aspects of our lives.

The Quran

teaches that the truly successful people are those who purify their souls:

"By the soul, and the proportion and the order given to it; and its enlightenment as to its wrong or right; truly he succeeds who purifies it, and he fails who corrupts it"

(Quran 91:7-10)

Allah (Glory be to Him) says that if you truly love Him, then follow His Messenger:

Messenger:

"Say (O Muhammad), if you (really) love Allah, then follow me, and Allah will love you and forgive you your sins. And Allah is Forgiving and Merciful". (Holy Quran 3:31)

Performing daily prayers, reciting the Quran, and giving charity are commendable actions for a Muslim. However, true humanity in Islam extends beyond personal rituals. It involves connecting spiritually with fellow Muslim brothers and understanding their pain. The essence of Islam lies in worshiping Allah while comprehending the concept of spiritual unity among Muslims globally. Our hearts are intertwined, and when a Muslim brother suffers, our own being should feel that pain. If one fails to empathize with the sorrow or needs of fellow Muslims, it suggests a discrepancy between verbal affirmation of Islam and actual deeds. Being a Muslim means having an automatic sense of empathy and action, and lacking in this aspect implies a failure to grasp the core concept of Islam, a message sent to us by Allah through His Prophet S.A.W.

As Muslims, we possess the inherent power to transform the wrongs in this world and support one another comprehensively. A true Muslim exhibits a unique vision and a multi-purpose personality capable of leading a nation with a unified essence. The strength to navigate through crises is inherent in every Muslim.

However, the crucial aspect is that if, despite engaging in good deeds, there is no observable change in behavior, life management, and morality persistently lacks improvement, it indicates a deficiency in the essence of worship. Merely reciting the Quran daily without comprehending its actual meaning and purpose, understanding why Almighty Allah sent it among us, and recognizing how its verses have the potential to bring about spiritual power and transformative actions, suggests a shortfall in truly grasping the purpose of the Quran. Reading alone does not fulfill the Quran's intended purpose, and one remains deficient in understanding its profound significance.

Almighty Allah says in Quran :

Such are the similitudes which we propound to men, that they may reflect .Had we sent down this Quran upon a mountain you would indeed have seen it humbling itself and breaking as under out of fear of Allah. We propound such propables people that they may reflect.

(59:21 Qurann)

The Quran stands as an unalterable book, its words unchanged, yet possessing the potential to transform the entire world. As Muslims, our responsibility is to embody the essence of true Islam by understanding the genuine meaning and fundamental nature of the Quran.

However, a deficiency arises when we fail to grasp the Quran's teachings, especially regarding what Allah Almighty instructs us about jihad. Understanding the Quran authentically would undoubtedly reveal the true essence of Allah's guidance on the concept of jihad.

In Quran Almighty Allah say:

O believers! What is the matter with you that when you are asked to march forth in the cause of Allah, you cling firmly to 'your' land? Do you prefer the life of this world over the Hereafter? The enjoyment of this worldly life is insignificant compared to that of the Hereafter.

(9:38 Quran)

Same in that case we do charity but unable to see the actual purpose of that deed why and how it close us to Allah it's not just for show off.

Allah Almighty says in Quran :

The example of those who spend their wealth in the Way of Allah is like that of a grain of corn that sprouts seven ears, and in every ear there are a hundred grains. Thus Allah multiplies the action of whomsoever He wills. Allah is Munificent, All-Knowing.(2:261)

In Conclusion !

As a Muslim, you bear significant responsibilities in addressing national crises, elucidating the true meaning and purpose of Islam, and aligning your actions with the genuine essence rather than seeking personal satisfaction. Reflect deeply on these responsibilities and consider whether your actions truly resonate with the authentic meaning of Islam.
