MPHIL CLINICAL PSYCHOLOGY ENTRANCE EXAMS 2025

The M.Phil. in Clinical Psychology is a two-year program recognized by the Rehabilitation Council of India (RCI) that qualifies graduates as licensed clinical psychologists capable of addressing mental health challenges. This program provides comprehensive training to prepare students as effective clinicians, educators, researchers, and administrators in mental health. It aims to equip trainees to work as professional clinical psychologists, offering diagnostic, therapeutic, and rehabilitative services to improve individuals' well-being. Training covers both theoretical and practical aspects of Clinical Psychology and research methodology.

ELIGIBILITY CRITERIA

UGC recognized Masters' Degree in any branch of Psychology of 2-year duration (4 semesters) (NHEQF 6.5) after obtaining a 3-year duration Bachelor's Degree with Psychology as one of the major/core subjects in all three years of Bachelor's Degree, with a minimum grade average of 60% (or equivalent grade as per UGC norms) and successfully qualifying in the entrance test and interview by a panel assessing proficiency and knowledge.

Our M.Phil. coaching program offers a range of services designed to ensure comprehensive preparation and success.
