OUR STORY

Real Good Honey is an innovative honey company based in Otago, New Zealand. Its source and production of the world's most remarkable honey for years, beekeepers working in the unique forest of New Zealand. Australia, weather, and unique weather forests have known their honey possesses extraordinary healing properties.

However, amidst the resources to grow it, these powerful, natural, renowned, designed in traditional methods, making their potential in local conditions for various skin and health conditions. Today, we're bringing these incredible honey to the world, some of the most common and stubborn skin conditions and functional foods—our remarkable honey.

THERAPEUTIC HONEY

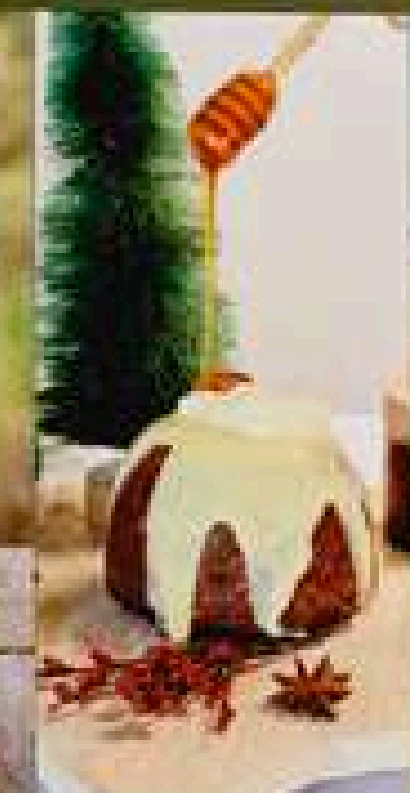

As someone who's passionate about people dealing with skin conditions, my mission is to provide relief and promote open conversations about these often-underserved health issues.

Our therapeutic range utilizes the healing power of rare hydrogen peroxide-based honey for targeted, topical treatment of various skin conditions. Originally focused on women's intimate health issues, we now address a broader range of concerns including stubborn skin conditions such as Tinea, eczema, and dermatitis.

For those dealing with intimate discomforts like foul-smelling, excessive discharge or vagina itching, and for trades, truckers, and fitness enthusiasts facing skin irritations from Tinea and chafing, our honey offers natural, effective relief. It also helps alleviate eczema and dermatitis symptoms when mixed with skin lotion. Our
