I almost wanted to call his bluff. Let him look bad. But it's not fair to the kids if they are late for school or their teachers. Even if it's not what we agreed upon driving to get my kids is never too far ❤️

My lawyer advised me to be the responsible parent I always am. She's right don't make it about him messing up and looking bad. Make it about me being responsible and doing what's morally right for my children.
