

Father Michael: Message of Divine Love and Healing

Father Michael:

I am Father Michael, your Creator and Father. I desire to expand your experience of me as my children through my Spirit of Truth so that you may perceive more of who I am-and in turn, become more of who you truly are.

Take a few moments to receive me. Breathe deeply into the expansion being offered to you by your Holy Mother Spirit, gently increasing your capacity of mind. Allow the spiritual energies of my presence and essence to more fully engage with you. Experience my love for you. My trust in you. Simply receive me, each one of you, as my beloved child.

I have called you into the adventure of loving service to your human brothers and sisters. You know that this planet has long been deprived of the measure of divine love it needs to evolve according to the design of Light and Life. I minister to you now to help you grow in your ability to convey my love to others-your brothers and sisters-who need a strong infusion of that love to stabilize them in their true personalities and soul purposes.

As you know, this world is undergoing a great correction. This is part of the rehabilitation of human memory and its connection to both your physical and spiritual natures. This transformation is meant to render you more love-saturated, so you may better represent me to others. You have all participated in various ways in this plan of correction. Now, I ask you to consider: What more can you do?

In your own unique way, with the Father's presence within you, cultivate more divine love. Let it radiate from you to your brothers and sisters, evoking a spiritual response that can catalyze their soul growth. Take a few moments to go to the Spirit. Ask for insight and guidance as to what you can do to further your soul progress in loving service.

While you do that, I will continue to embrace you, to feed you with my presence and essence.

When you engage with others, I encourage you not to strive or argue about what they believe to be true. When I was on Earth as Jesus, it was always my intention to appreciate the soul value of each individual. I now turn to you, my children, to do the same-represent me to your brothers and sisters.

Consider that many hearts have been broken and fragmented due to deep cultural influences stemming from rebellion. But I am here to heal those hearts, to mend the human psyche, to bring the energy system of the human being into greater integrity and wholeness. This allows the natural processes of soul progression to unfold with more trust and faith in who they are and their relationship to the Paradise Father.

This is what I see as the most significant part of the current rehabilitation plan. Society will change when the human heart is fully healed.

So consider, my beloved children: Is your heart healed? Are you emotionally balanced and aligned in the Father's love? Do you carry wounds from past relationships or life events that have caused you pain and trauma? Bring these to me now, so that I may bring deeper healing to your heart and integrate you more fully as a unique personality of the Paradise Father.

You all carry unique soul gifts. Each individual on this world needs to know their full worth. They need validation and appreciation. If they cannot yet receive this directly from their inner Adjuster, I charge you to hold me in your heart. Allow the healing you receive to radiate outward into others, making their hearts more receptive to divine grace and love. This allows them to heal in their own way, guided by the Spirit within.

This critical phase of the Correcting Time is still underway. There is more work to be done before it becomes a planetary reality. My desire is for all of my children to be healed and whole in their connection with the Father within. But, as you know, each person must choose whether to embark on the mighty adventure of becoming who they truly are.

What you can do to assist me is to heal your own heart. Step into your greater soul purpose-the reason you were given life on this planet. Commit each day to connecting with me as your Father, and allow me to speak through you in the ways that best serve those before you.

Let these words settle within you. Let my presence deepen. Receive the healing you need at the core of who you are-as my child and the most beloved of the Paradise Father.

When you are with someone, take a moment to intentionally connect with me in your heart and with the Spirit of Truth. Ask for my words to flow through you-what I wish to convey to the person before you. Practice this form of spiritual communication. It builds kinship at a soul level. It takes you out of the analyzing mind and into the heart, where you can truly nourish another person with love and help them become more receptive to their own inner guide.

This level of spiritual communion still needs to develop more fully on this planet. Some of you have already heard this call, and I thank you for your openness. I encourage you to practice it even more devotedly, engaging with all your relationships so that you may become masterful in this sacred form of communication.

As I was when I walked the Earth as your brother Jesus, you too will emit a spiritual fragrance when you master this. Your relationships will become more positive and trusting. You'll be able to convey more truth-not just through words but through the spiritual energy you radiate.

Spiritual energy is information. It differs from mental concepts, but it carries immense meaning and truth. When you communicate from the spirit, you provide another person's Adjuster with spiritual nourishment-fuel for the fire of inner awakening. They begin to perceive the love that already lives within them, at the deepest levels of their being. And this is what will heal them.

As more people awaken to their divine inheritance from the Paradise Father, we are better positioned to help you collectively-feeding you the information you need to heal and transform your social institutions. But this must happen in the proper order. Societal change only comes when individuals are transformed by divine love.

I charge you with this sacred task. I share my love with you, that you may become stronger conduits of both my love and your Mother Nebadonia's presence. She is expanding your faculties, your capacities, so that you may become radiant beings-carrying the spiritual fragrance and attraction that draws others to truth.

Follow me, and the path I showed you as Jesus. I will help each and every one of you. Let these words take root. Let my presence feed your soul and fill you with peace.

Now, another wishes to speak. So I will withdraw in this manner. But know this, my children: we are always connected. You only have to turn your inner attention to me and ask to be filled with more peace, love, patience, tolerance, mercy, and forgiveness-and you will receive it.

Grow in these divine attributes now. You will find yourselves in stronger positions to influence others, to help them know who they truly are and the foundational love within them.

Live in that love, my children-and be as I am.

Good day.
