

Journaling Prompts

(Low-pressure prompts for when your brain feels too full)

- What's one thing I need to get out of my head right now?
 - Two things I actually care about this week:
 - What's one thing I've been avoiding today, and why?
 - If I could cancel one responsibility guilt-free, what would it be?
 - What do I need more of this week? (sleep, silence, snacks?)
 - What thoughts keep looping? Write them out.
 - A weird thought I had today that made me laugh:
 - One thing I can control right now:
 - What do I want my space to feel like?
 - If I were 10% kinder to myself today, what would I do?
 - What does "rest" actually mean to me?
 - What am I resisting today, and what's one tiny step I can take?
 - What's buzzing in my head right now? Just dump it here.
 - My brain feels most alive when I'm...
 - What do I need to remember that I keep forgetting?
 - What feels good lately, even if it's small?
 - One way I can move my body that doesn't feel like punishment:
 - Who or what is making me feel scattered right now?
 - What's something I'd like to create—just for fun?
 - What can I say no to this week?
 - What's a habit I want to build—but ADHD makes hard?
 - What would my "ideal day" actually look like?
 - A brain dump: no rules, just go
 - What kind of support do I wish I had right now?
 - How can I make tomorrow 10% easier?
 - What do I actually need today—not what I think I "should" do?
 - If I were a character in a book, how would today be written?
 - One little win I can celebrate right now:
