So you keep on threatening Kelley about the law and how you got her and you will take her for everything or what ever you think all you want but it no longer matters. and if you are not going to work with me so I get your stuff I can say I have tried with you I did right by you from day one til the end went out of my way for you helped move you in offered to still help move you out and pay for a U haul for til even talked my girl into letting crash here but the whole time you have been nothing like a friend or a man back. You will see a there for you type friend is a great thing to have mean your getting older and your kids don't even want to kick it or be there for you from all the years I've seen but I was if I had a way I could help you but from here forward if you see me out in public in adream or even your bitches bed if you didn't only get ugly bitches or no bitch for over five years now you can go ahead and act like you don't know me your out for life peace”
