

The Caregiver Link Disclaimer

Educational and Community Support Only

The Caregiver Link provides a platform for caregivers to share experiences, resources, and encouragement. The information, discussions, and resources available through this site are intended for general informational and educational purposes only.

Not Professional Advice

Content on this site — whether posted by administrators, contributors, or community members — does not constitute medical, legal, financial, or psychological advice. Always consult with qualified professionals regarding the care, treatment, or planning for yourself or your loved ones.

Peer Sharing

The views and experiences shared by members of the Caregiver Link community are personal opinions only. They should not be relied upon as professional guidance. Each caregiving situation is unique, and what works for one person may not be appropriate for another.

No Professional–Client Relationship

Use of this site does not establish a doctor–patient, lawyer–client, therapist–client, or other professional relationship.

Accuracy and Responsibility

While we strive to provide accurate and up-to-date resources, we make no warranties or guarantees as to the completeness, reliability, or applicability of any content. Users are solely responsible for how they apply any information obtained through the site.

External Resources

Links to third-party websites or resources are provided for convenience only. The Caregiver Link is not responsible for the accuracy, content, or practices of external sites.

Limitation of Liability

By participating in the Caregiver Link, you agree that neither the site nor its administrators shall be held liable for any outcomes, decisions, or consequences resulting from reliance on the information shared here. All use is at your own discretion and risk.
