Literature Review & Theoretical Background

The Role of Effective Project Management in Erasmus+ Initiatives

Project management in transnational Erasmus+ programs is a key factor in ensuring successful execution and sustainability.

Research suggests that:

Well-structured project management leads to higher engagement among stakeholders (OECD, 2020).

Communication and collaboration among partners increase project impact and dissemination (European Commission, 2021).

Establishing monitoring frameworks ensures quality control and accountability (Jensen & Larsen, 2019).

Application to SIRIUS

The 5Star Single Moms Project adopts a collaborative management model, integrating regular partner meetings, digital communication tools, and performance tracking systems.

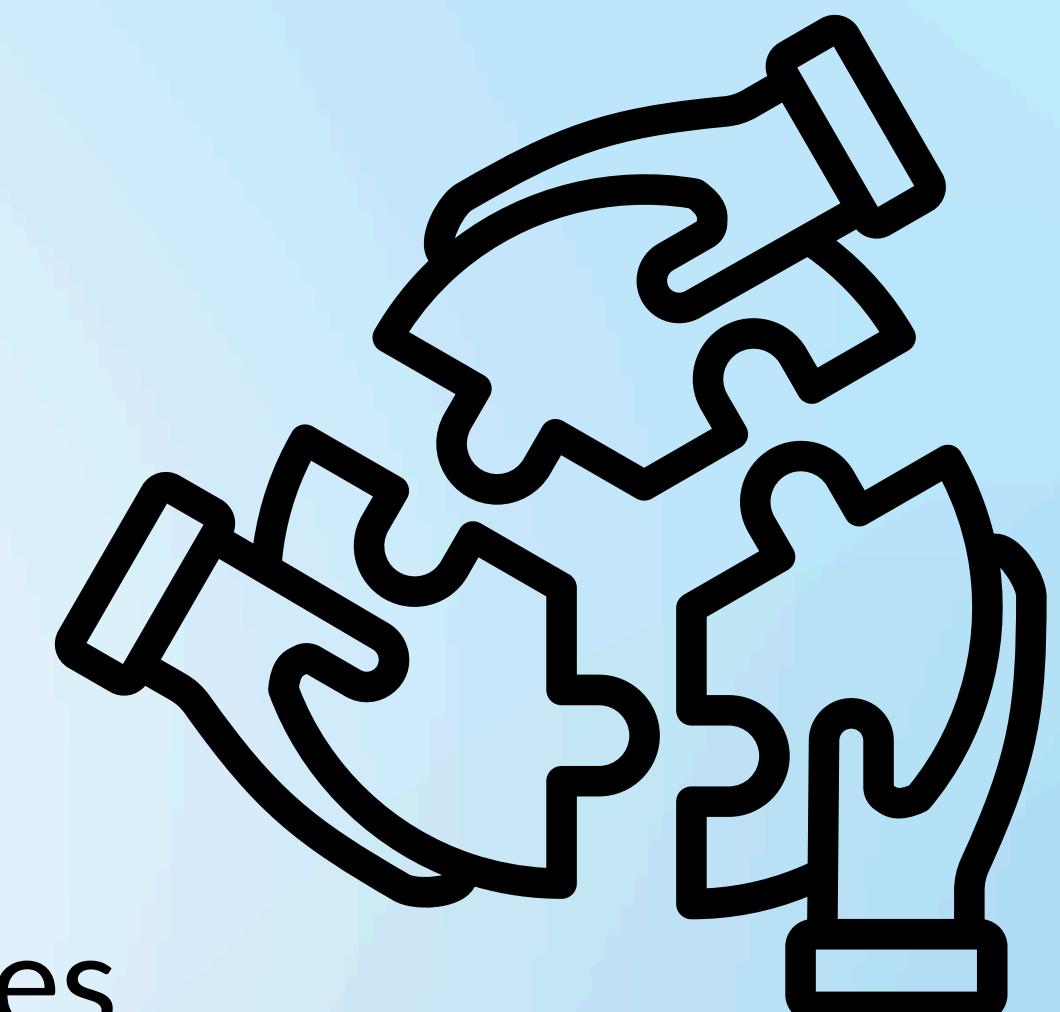

Erasmus+ projects often face challenges in cross-cultural communication.

A structured communication strategy helps:

Maintain clarity and consistency in project execution

Facilitate knowledge-sharing between partners.

Improve coordination in training and research activities.

Online

The project uses a multi-channel communication strategy, including:

- Bi-weekly online partner meetings.
- A shared Project Management Dashboard.
- Internal collaboration platforms (Google Drive, Trello, Slack).

Methodology

The SIRIUS phase follows an iterative project management approach, integrating elements of Agile methodology and Results-Based Monitoring.

The key steps include:

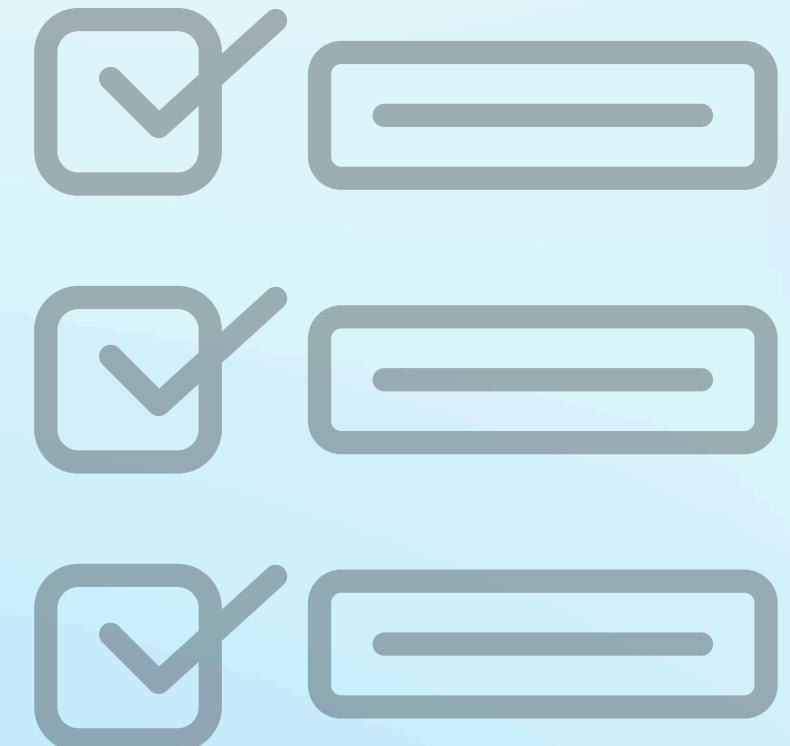

- Phase 1: Defining roles and responsibilities of each partner.
- Phase 2: Establishing project documentation and workflow guidelines.
- Phase 3: Conducting preliminary research on training methods for adult educators.
- Phase 4: Setting up the digital infrastructure for project dissemination.
