

BAKERY BANDIT

Written by

Michael Ludwig, Julia Sudduth and David Olin

Ludwigmi@mail.gvsu.edu
Sudduthj@mail.gvsu.edu
Olind@mail.gvsu.edu

EXT. RISE AUTHENTIC BAKING CO. - DAY

DETECTIVE stands outside a bakery. He scribbles onto a notepad, lost in thought.

DETECTIVE (V.O.)
He's here, no doubt about it. All my leads have pointed me to here.

Still scribbling in his notes, he walks into the closed door.

INT. RISE AUTHENTIC BAKING CO. - DAY

He shakes it off and enters the bakery, revealing an EMPLOYEE cleaning a cup.

The detective takes a seat by the window, scanning the room of happy customers. On his table sits a donut and coffee.

DETECTIVE (V.O) (CONT'D)
For far too long, the Bakery Bandit has ran free.

The employee behind the counter starts to look around suspiciously as the detective takes a bite of the donut.

DETECTIVE (V.O) (CONT'D) (CONT'D)
My senses are honed to perfection.
From my years of experience, I can tell this donut is remarkable. No soy, no gluten, no nasty dyes.

The detective looks shocked.

DETECTIVE (V.O) (CONT'D)
Goodness, it's even vegan! No wonder the Bakery Bandit wants to strike here!

The suspicious employee takes off his apron. Oblivious, the detective sips his coffee.

The employee pulls a ski mask over his face and starts to wrap stolen baked goods with the apron.

DETECTIVE (V.O) (CONT'D)
Now bring it on, Bakery Bandit. I'm ready to deliver swift justice.

The employee walks away with their prize, totally undetected.

Text: RISE AUTHENTIC BAKING CO.