Dear Hiring Manager,

I am writing to apply for the Senior ESL Teacher position at your school. I bring over 20 years of teaching experience, including 15 years specializing in online education, offering stability, consistency, and extensive experience in digital classroom environments.

Over the past seven years, I worked as a core teacher at Seer English, where I maintained a student retention rate of over 95% while delivering more than 4,000 lessons to young learners. Across my online teaching career, I have completed over 10,000 teaching hours and worked with more than 1,000 students. My teaching approach focuses on building speaking confidence, developing strong relationships with families, and supporting consistent long-term learning progress through repeat bookings.

I hold a 150-hour TESOL certification from Arizona State University and completed the Leadership Communications program at Harvard University. I am currently pursuing a B.A. in Computer Science, which supports my ability to work effectively in modern online learning environments and adapt to digital platforms and teaching systems.

In my classes, I focus on pronunciation development, phonics, and communicative fluency through structured, level-appropriate lessons that encourage active participation and confidence. I aim to create a supportive and professional environment where students feel comfortable speaking and developing their language skills over time.

I am available across US and global time zones and would welcome the opportunity to contribute my experience and long-term teaching approach to your team. I look forward to discussing my background further during an interview.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Kind regards,
Andrew Liberman
