Sabrina Carpenter Announces 2024 World Tour In Support of Her Hit Album “Short N’ Sweet”

LOS ANGELES, CA -- Pop sensation Sabrina Carpenter is hitting the road this fall! The globally renowned singer, songwriter, and actress is thrilled to announce her 2024 Short N’ Sweet World Tour, supporting her critically acclaimed album of the same title. Kicking off October 3rd in Los Angeles, this high-energy tour will take Carpenter across major cities in North America, Europe, and Canada, allowing fans to experience her album live.

Carpenter’s Short N’ Sweet album has been praised for its storytelling and emotional depth, with hits like “Espresso” and “Please Please Please” resonating deeply with listeners. Jon Parales of The New York Times says the album is a smart, funny, cheerfully merciless catalog of bad boyfriend behavior and the deceptions and rationalizations that enable it. The 2024 tour promises to bring all these fan favorites and more to life with dynamic performances, vibrant visuals, and the intimate yet energetic vibe for which Sabrina is known.

“I’m beyond excited to hit the stage, perform these songs for the first time, and connect with all my fans around the world,” said Carpenter. The tour promises a new look at Sabrina’s beautiful old Hollywood aesthetic with the staging to match. Tickets will be available for exclusive fan presales starting August 17th, 2024, with general tickets going on sale September 1st, 2024.
