

Week Eleven: Nearly a tie-free week; thanks Foil. Tocchet, Dynasty, CB, Kings, and Retired Commish each put two points on the board.

Every GM has played each other one time and schedule resets. We are at the top of the order once again. I'm keep my eye on Reggie and Kings this week as this matchup has big-time playoff implications

EACH TEAM'S CHRISTMAS WISH

Anaheim Ducks – a little more from Cutter Gauthier. I mean, if you demand a trade, the least you can do is man up and play like a stud

Boston Bruins – will the real Jeremy Swayman please stand up? The pre-season hold out has a 3.13 goals against and a .887%.

Buffalo Sabres – a Bills Superbowl so the city can forget about you

Calgary Flames – a wildcard berth. Sophomore Dustin Wolf has been steady, and Huberdeau is having a renaissance season with 25 points in 34 games.

Why not have another Canadian team in the postseason?

SABRES FANS

CHRISTMAS WISHES

Carolina Hurricanes – a trip to the cup finals. The Canes have reached the postseason in all of Brindamour's years behind the bench, including two trips to the conference finals but never to the big dance

Chicago Blackhawks – years of Kevin Korchinski and Artyom Levshunov anchoring the Hawk's blueline.

Colorado Avalanche – saves. Please Santa, more saves!

Columbus Blue Jackets – a magical second half and an improbable postseason berth. Imagine how electric that building will be on game 3 if the Jackets make it.

Dallas Stars – getting past the conference finals, where the Stars have been ousted over the past two seasons

Detroit Red Wings – more scoring. Detroit has the fewest goals in the Eastern Conference. And for a stocking stuffer, please Santa, no more games versus the Habs

Edmonton Oilers – for the 15th straight year, the Oilers are asking for depth scoring. This year, if you please Santa

Florida Panthers – we already have low taxes, warm climate, a great team, and a Stanley Cup. How about peace on earth?

Los Angeles Kings – Doughty return as scheduled

Minnesota Wild – whatever Filip Gustavsson wants. Drugs, hookers, name it, it's his!

Montreal Canadiens – Columbus Blue Jackets cap woes and being paid to take Laine's contract. Christmas came early this year

Nashville Predators – is it too much to ask for scoring, defence, special teams, and goaltending?

New Jersey Devils – health for the team and continued freefall from the New York Rangers

New York Islanders – for the first time in a long time, Santa, how about some team defence? Normally we ask for scoring, but this year, we are struggling to keep the puck out of our net

New York Rangers – a Chris Drury resignation

Ottawa Senators – the existence of Don Sweeney. Greatest gift we could have got this year. And a quick recovery from Linus Ullmark

Philadelphia Flyers – another high draft pick and for it to be 1973 again

Pittsburgh Penguins – one last run with the old gang

San Jose Sharks – continued development from our young guns. And maybe for Mike Grier to stop being a terrible GM

Seattle Kraken – a superstar. Are the Kraken the most mid roster in the league?

St. Louis Blues – playoffs or bust

CHRISTMAS WISHES

Tampa Bay Lightning – a wonderful turkey dinner with family. Don't worry about our 38 points and a barely holding on wildcard standing. TB has only played 30 games; Toronto and Florida have played 34, Boston 35. TB is coming... just wait for it

Toronto Maple Leafs – Matthews healthy. We're tired of asking for the same "other" thing every year and never getting it

Utah Hockey Club – a cool team nickname. Santa, can you make Utah Yeti happen???

Vancouver Canucks – get Demko back in game shape as quickly as possible.

Vegas Golden Knights – we have your same private table waiting for you on December 26, as we do every year. Candi, Marci, and Brandi can't wait to get you out of that suit

Washington Capitals – the Great Eight surpassing the Great One

Winnipeg Jets – given our success on the ice, Santa, can you please bring us some decent winter weather? How about days between -15 and -20, and that's it????
