General Background

Debbie qualified as a Registered Adult Nurse in 2009 and more recently as an Advanced Nurse Practitioner (ANP). She has extensive senior experience within clinical, managerial, and leadership roles within NHS Acute Trusts, spanning Critical and High Dependency settings, and Acute Ward environments.

Her roles have provided significant exposure to patients from a range of specialisms requiring single and multi-level organ support, emergency intervention and resuscitation, acutely ill individuals requiring ward or enhanced level care, and further, patients with complex comorbidities and frailty requiring rehabilitation and complex social care planning. More recently, as an Advanced Nurse Practitioner, her responsibilities have progressed towards the assessment, diagnosis, and management of patients within the surgical speciality.

Her leadership tenures extended her accountability towards regulatory compliance and the inclusive leadership, professional standards, and accountability of large teams, and further, assurance relating to patient safety, quality, and experience. Subsequently, commissioning and leading investigations into incidents, safeguarding concerns, never events, complaints, litigation, and professional standards, in conjunction with providing consultancy to wider investigations, are key skills.

In a leadership capacity Debbie worked at local and regional level during the Covid-19 pandemic in the planning and delivery of the regional emergency response. She has sat on her local NHS Trust committees for the Acutely Ill and Resuscitation Group, The Tracheostomy and Laryngectomy Group, the Major Incident and Resilience planning group and the Ethics Committee.
