It is my pleasure to introduce Merlin Trading., and share with you our journey of more than half a century, a journey that has transformed the Merlin Trading into what it is today, and what it aspires to for tomorrow. Our rich history is important. We value the organizational lessons we have learnt through the challenges and obstacles we have faced. We contemplate how we can do things better and fondly reminisce the small wins that moved us closer to our goals. The future remains our focus and through these pages I would also like to offer an insight into our vision.

MANZOOR NOUMAN firmly believed that if a company does not change it cannot survive and therefore the leadership philosophy of Merlin Trading has always been one of flexibility and adaptation. We remain fluid in the way we structure our organization, and in the way we approach our business, which ensures that we have the ability to respond to changing customer and market needs fast.

Those values and that vision continue to drive the company forward today. The management, staff and Board of Directors is united in our mission to realize that vision as we work towards further cementing the company's position as a leading solutions provider to the import and export sectors in the South Korea and beyond.

Change has always been high on the agenda at the Merlin Trading. Over the years we have strategically diversified our business lines and expanded both our service offerings and our geographical reach. This approach to sustainability has seen the Group evolve and in 2014 we took part of the business units to become a publicly listed company on the South Korea Market.

Today Merlin Trading is well positioned to realize our vision. We have formed strong partnerships with a large network of respected regional and international associates and have built a solid infrastructure and corporate culture.
